Norway Rejects New German Protest

Simpson, H G State Museum Comm

U.S. FREIGHTER EXPECTED TO RETURN HOME

Captain Goes on Radio to Tell of German Threats to Sink Ship.

FREE TO BEGIN TRIP

Negotiations Underway by Berlin to Gain Release of Prize Crew.

BERGEN, Norway — Norway today rejected a new German protest against release of the freighter City of Flint to her American crew, and there were increasing indications that the ship would leave her cargo here and return home.

Norway continued to maintain that Germany lost legal right to the ship when the German prize crew took it into port at Haugesund and that she is now free to go wherever the Americans want to take her.

Mrs. J. Borden Harriman, U. S. minister to Norway, who conferred here with Capt. Joseph A. Gainard of the City of Flint, also said that the ship is now free.

In a radio talk to the United States carried by the National Broadcasting company, Gainard made an important disclosure which was expected to bolster the Norwegian contention that the German prize crew commander violated international rules when it put the City of Flint into Haugesund.

Cited 'Instructions.'

He said the Flint went into Haugesund in compliance with instructions that were shouted by the commander of the German merchant ship Schwaben. The Schwaben circled around the Flint, he said, and as soon as they approached close enough, the Schwaben megaphoned the order.

The Germans had maintained that they put the ship into port because an American sailor needed hospital treatment. The Norwegians examined him and said that was not true.

Gainard also said that when the German prize crew took the ship, the German commander told the Americans: "If you interfere, I will put you in open boats and sink the ship."

HEAR FLINT GOING TO U. S.

BERLIN—(U.P.)—Responsible government sources said today that Germany had been informed that the City of Flint would sail immediately for the United States with its cargo.

Nazi quarters admitted that the Norwegian communique on the subject constituted "a more or less flat rejection" of the German protest at losing the ship, and it was reported that diplomatic discussions with Norway were continuing.

The Norwegians were still holding the Nazi prize crew prisoners, according to latest word here, and negotiations to secure their release were reported under way.

Parents Save One Of 4 Children As Fire Ruins Home

YOUNGSTOWN, O. — (AP) — A grief-stricken young couple watched protectively over their only surviving child today after their other three children perished in a fire which destroyed their home at the edge of Youngstown.

Arthur Waites, 26, and his wife, 23, managed to grab up their three-year-old son, Raymond, and flee from their blazing home—a 150-year-old frame inn converted into a two-family dwelling.

Burned to death were Annette, 4, whose cries roused her parents early Sunday and apprised them of the fire; Arthur, Jr., 2, and Gloria, aged six months. Their bodies were recovered.

Two other occupants, Lewis Zimmerman, 84, and his wife, 64, fled before flames reached their apartment.

Firemen said a pan of medicated tallow which had been heated on the stove in the Waites' apartment apparently caused the blaze. The building was outside the area protected by fire hydrants, and firemen were forced to pump water from a nearby creek.

Voters Rule Tomorrow On City Offices, Pension Plan

12,000 Expected To Cast Ballots In Mansfield As Pension Scrap, Races For Mayor, Muny Judge Stir Voters.

Political parties and campaigners for and against special issues and tax levies were completing their work today as the city, county and state set the stage for Tuesday's election which may produce a record "off-year" vote.

It is estimated that at least 12,000 voters will go to the polls in Mansfield, while the Bigelow pension proposal and three other state-wide issues are expected to stir unprecedented interest in the "off-year" balloting in the state.

Voters may go to the polls in the rain unless they go early, the weatherman predicted. Increasing cloudiness with moderate temperatures and showers by night was the forecast. The polls will open at 6:30 a. m. and close at 6:30 p. m.

Mansfield Republicans and Democrats will carry their municipal campaign right into the eve of election. Democratic candidates will speak at the traditional Fifth ward rally tonight at Fred Miller's on Orange street.

Republicans will wind up their campaigning with a meeting for colored voters at 211½ North Diamond street at 7:30 p. m. today.

One of the shortest on record, the Mansfield municipal campaign has produced little "fire" and there probably is more interest in the Bigelow plan and the three-mill school levy than in the mayoralty contest.

Voters will decide between Mayor Claude M. Hunter, Democrat, and William J. Locke, Republican, for the city's major office. Mayor Hunter is seeking a second term. Locke is making his first bid for political office.

In the other important race in the city, Municipal Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch is running for re-election against Atty. George Blecker, a former county prosecutor.

In addition to a mayor and municipal judge, Mansfield voters will choose a council president,

CUT ROOF, GET LOOT AT STORE

Burglars Haul Radios, Motors Valued at $300 From Sears Roebuck Here.

Working slowly and methodically, burglars cut their way into the Sears Roebuck company store, 37 West Third street, over the weekend and hauled away merchandise valued at $300.

Screened at their labors by an elevator shaft, the burglars cut a hole in the roof of the building and entered a second flood stock room.

L. J. Washburn, manager, estimated the amount of the loot this morning after a hurried inventory had been taken.

He said it was not known whether the store had been entered Saturday or Sunday night. The burglary was discovered about 8 a. m. today by employes when they reported for work. There was no one in the store yesterday.

The loot listed by Washburn included 12 mantel radios, several small electric motors, numerous electrical appliances, plumbing fixtures, several shotguns and ammunition.

Police said the hole was cut in the roof with a drill and then they

MORE TROUBLE

Erie Mechanics Hit Snag in Repairing Snow Cruiser.

ERIE, Pa. — (U.P.) — Because mechanics at the General Electric Co. here experienced unexpected difficulty in installing two new motors, Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd's mammoth snow cruiser was not expected to leave here until tomorrow morning.

The huge vehicle is due in Boston on Nov. 14, when Byrd's ship is expected to leave for the South Pole. With about 600 miles still to go, and only a week in which to negotiate this distance, it was feared the snow cruiser would not arrive in time.

If this happens, the 35-ton ship will be taken aboard a later boat, according to Dr. Thomas D. Poulter, designer and pilot of the snowmobile.

The snow cruiser arrived here late Saturday afternoon and was taken almost immediately to the General Electric plant. Although working day and night, mechanics did not expect to finish installing the new motors until this afternoon. Pennsylvania authorities will not permit the snow cruiser to travel at night.

FATALLY BURNED

Farmer Drinks Gasoline, Spits On Stove; He Had Wrong Jug

LEWISBURG, Pa.—(AP)—Burns proved fatal for a 69-year-old farmer who drank gasoline in mistake for wine and then spit it out on a hot stove. Mrs. Austin Burd said her husband picked up the wrong jug yesterday. Flames leaped up as he spit out the gasoline, igniting his clothing.

'Official Issues' On Ballot! Here's What They Mean

One of the ballots voters will receive when they go to the polls tomorrow will be marked "official questions and issues ballot." On it they will find, in the following order:

1. Proposed amendment to the constitution of Ohio. If approved, it would create a state board of education, which in turn would name a director of education.

2. Proposed amendment to the constitution (Bigelow pension plan). If approved, it is intended to assure an income of $50 a month to every single person and $80 to married couples over 60 who were not gainfully employed. The amendment also would levy a tax of two per cent on all land valued at more than $20,000 an acre, plus a state income tax.

3. Proposed amendment to the constitution (Bigelow proposal). If passed, this would reduce the number of signatures required to call for a constitutional amendment or propose a new law.

4. Referendum on House bill No. 14. If approved, this would put into effect the recently amended civil service act increasing the commission to three members and permit dismissal of provisional service employes at the discretion of department heads.

HURT ON TRAIN

12 Passengers Injured When 7 Coaches Overturn.

WESTFIELD, Mass.—(INS)—Twelve persons were injured, none seriously, when nine cars and a tender of the New England states express of the Boston and Albany railroad, bound from Chicago to Boston, were derailed today apparently by the dropping of an equalizer from the tender.

The seven cars—nine pullmans and two mail cars—turned on their sides on the road bed. Passengers in the pullmans were thrown into confusions by the upset but all, including the injured, were removed by members of the train crew.

The accident occurred as the limited had come down grade from the Berkshires.

Cooking School Opens First of Four Sessions Tomorrow

The curtain goes up tomorrow at 9 a. m. on the News-Journal's fall cooking school, planned to be one of the most satisfactory ever given here. It will be the first of four morning sessions, all at the Ohio theater.

Miss Ruth Chambers, who is a popular food lecturer with Mansfield housewives, and who has been here for three former schools, will greet her friends and followers, and will present her assistant, Miss Reba Staggs.

FOURTH SCHOOL HERE

Although Miss Ruth Chambers, lecturer for The News-Journal's fall cooking school, is no stranger to Mansfield housewives as this is her fourth appearance here, she will be presented to old and new followers tomorrow morning by Mrs. Lester Redding, president of the Mansfield Federation of Women. The cooking school opens promptly at 9 a. m. and sessions will be over by 11:30 a. m.

The school is made possible through the co-operation of Mansfield merchants, and nationally known concerns whose products are sold in Mansfield.

The first morning of the school will be given over largely to meat dishes and their accessories. One of the new features that Mansfield housewives are sure to remember and use is a molded relish for cold cuts of meat. Then there will be demonstrations of Swedish meat balls, English grilled lamb chops,

'I'M O. K', SAYS BOY VICTIM, 7

Wants To Leave Hospital; Found After Being Lost 6 Days

HOLBROOK, Ariz.—(INS)—Although doctors insisted he was suffering from "severe exhaustion and dehydration" as the result of his harrowing adventure of being lost for six days, 7-year-old Bruce Crozier today declared "I'm all right" and said he wanted to leave his hospital bed.

Bruce became lost when he strayed from the hunting camp of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Crozier. After spending two days trying to find it, during which he was without water. The boy managed to find a few pinon nuts to eat, but his search for acorns was unsuccessful.

Election Party? Sure, Come on Down To the News-Journal Tomorrow Night

Machinery All Set To Get State And City Returns Early.

Want the election returns right hot off the griddle tomorrow night? Then come down and join The News-Journal's election night party on the corner of Walnut and West Fourth streets.

Both returns on state issues and returns on local contests should begin to come in about 8 p. m., or possibly earlier. Probably the first reports will be on the four state issues, since these are to be counted first.

While Mansfield and Madison township voters will be interested in the reports on local candidates, interest this year runs highest on the two Bigelow proposals to amend the state constitution—the pension and the initiative petitions plans, and the three-mill school levy. Although less important than the school operating levy, the proposed playground levy rates high in community interest this election.

The News-Journal will have its full staff out tomorrow night and will work well into the night and possibly early in the morning in order to give readers a service that has been in effect for a number of years.

There will be News-Journal employes at every precinct in the city and as soon as ballots are counted the results will be telephoned to The News-Journal tabulating office.

First reports on the Bigelow amendments should be available by 7:30. As fast as they are received they will be flashed to the big screen which will be stretched on the building opposite The News-Journal, on North Walnut street.

A staff of telephone operators will be stationed at The News-Journal switchboard to give reports by telephone, but the quickest and easiest way to get the reports is to join the street-corner election party.

Flyer Hurls Car 100 Feet From Grade Crossing

Paul B. Dietrichson, 55, Works Manager At Ohio Brass, Killed By Passenger Train At Pennsy Crossing; Girl, 20, Fatally Hurt Near New London.

A prominent Mansfield engineer was killed instantly last night when his automobile was hit by The General, crack east-bound Pennsylvania railroad passenger train, at the Surrey road crossing.

The victim was Paul B. Dietrichson, 55, works manager of the Ohio Brass company, and an internationally known engineer. He lived at 42 Glenwood boulevard.

The accident which occurred at 9:40 p. m. boosted Richland county's traffic toll for the year to 23. At this time last year 19 persons had been killed.

Dietrichson's death, the sixth recorded as grade crossing accidents in the county this year was one of the two fatalities in the Mansfield area over the week-end. Traffic mishaps in other parts of the state claimed 14 lives.

Police said Dietrichson, on his way home from the Brass company, apparently did not see the train which does not stop in Mansfield, and passes through the city at a high rate of speed.

The machine was tossed approximately 100 feet from the crossing, the impact tearing the motor from the car. The motor was found along the right of way 200 feet east of the crossing.

The train was delayed for 21 minutes while officers extricated Dietrichson's body from the wreckage and removed the car from the tracks. The Broadway Limited, following the General was held up nearly 10 minutes, railroad officials said.

C. L. Corner, engineer on the flyer told police that he saw the machine pull onto the tracks and immediately blew his whistle.

The crossing located east of the Ohio Brass company office building is unguarded. It is on Surrey road, a public street which runs through the company property.

Mr. Dietrichson had been with the Ohio Brass company since 1921, and at the Mansfield office since 1934.

His first connection with Ohio Brass was at the Barberton plant, where he designed and constructed a number of buildings. In 1923 he went to Niagara Falls, Canada, to supervise construction of the company's Canadian plant, returning to Barberton on completion of the job.

Returning to Niagara Falls in 1933 when he supervised reconstruction of the Canadian plant, he came to Mansfield the following year, and had been here since.

HAM 'N' EGGERS END CAMPAIGN

Ballyhoo on California Pension Plan at Climax; Expect Vote of 2,800,000 Tomorrow.

(By International News Service)

SAN FRANCISCO—Amid an abundance of campaign literature, radio oratory and even circus ballyhoo, the battle of the controversial "ham 'n' eggs" pension measure thunders to a dramatic close in California today.

Tomorrow some 2,800,000 voters, grimness and determination evident on both sides of the desperate conflict, will approve or reject a plan which provides payment of $30 every Thursday to those who have reached the age of 50 years and are able to qualify for the startling benefits.

Once before on Nov. 8, 1938, a somewhat milder version of the "ham 'n' eggs" proposition was pondered by the people of California. The widely-discussed pension idea was voted down, but that was at a general election which brought out 75 per cent of the registration, and the margin of defeat was only 225,000 votes out of 2,542,000 cast.

Since then backers of the plan have worked hard and spent much money to gain new supporters. The "ham 'n' eggs" voting strength for tomorrow's special election was estimated today by experts as close to 1,500,000, and it was pointed out that there will be few of the oldsters and their partisans who will not vote.

The California registration is 3,606,000, so that opponents were insisting today that advance victory claims of the "ham 'n' eggers" could not be dismissed.

Technically known as California retirement life payments, the "ham 'n' eggs" plan special election was called by Gov. Culbert Olson at the behest of promoters who last spring presented petitions bearing the signatures of an estimated million or so persons who asked for $30-every-Thursday.

Blaze Destroys Box Car Home Of Six Ashlanders

ASHLAND—A remodeled box car on Lee avenue, used as a home by Roy E. Cyphers and his five children, was a mass of charred ruins today.

The fire late Saturday started from a defective flue on a coal stove, according to Ashland firemen. The structure and its contents were nearly destroyed by the time the alarm was received, firemen said.

There is no water hydrant near the building, and it was necessary to hook up nearly 2,300 feet of hose before a stream of water could be thrown on the flames. There was no insurance on the building or its contents.

Cyphers is a laborer at the Rybolt Heater company here, and lived in the building with his five children, three girls and two boys, ranging in age up to 15 years. Steps were taken by the Associated Charities here today to establish a home for the family.

GUARD SUPPLIES

Britain, France to Protect American Cargoes.

PARIS—(U.P.)—Great Britain and France today announced a plan of joint naval action to guard ships carrying American war cargoes across the Atlantic.

The plan, worked out by Winston Churchill, first lord of the British admiralty, and Cesar Campinchi, French naval minister, and Vice-Admiral Francois Darlan, chief of staff of the French navy, is designed specifically to overcome the threat of German submarines and warships.

The first ships to leave New York with armaments, particularly airplanes, will be convoyed by allied warships the entire distance to "prove," it was said, that Britain and France control the seas.

Guard Killed, Woman Visitor Shot as Pen Break Fails

SIX CONVICTS CAUGHT; OPEN STATE PROBE

Three Captured as Bullet Hits Tire of Fleeing Car; Others Nabbed Inside Walls.

(By Associated Press)

JACKSON, Mich. — A melodramatic Sunday prison break, foiled after a guard was killed and a woman visitor wounded, prompted a state investigation today at Southern Michigan penitentiary.

Timing their well-engineered plot to coincide with a convict football game — a part of the prison's Sabbath recreation program—five robbers and a rapist overpowered two guards and a prison officer.

By the time five had clambered down a crude ladder of rope and pipe, the alarm was sounded and the prison exercise lot, where 3,000 convicts watched the game, had been ordered cleared.

Three of the fleeing felons—Sam Sawaya, 26, and George Bodie, 28, robbers, and Malcolm Stokes, rapist—dashed into a guard's car. Chief Guard Inspector Fred Boucher, 54, tried to halt them, and was killed by a shotgun blast.

A second shot went wild, and Mrs. Dorothy Roberts of Kalamazoo, visitor at the prison, was struck in the face by a pellet.

Guard Tricked.

Prison officials said the shotgun was taken from Russell Day, tower guard whom the six overpowered after gaining the roof by tricking him into believing his relief guard was on hand.

The three, in Day's car, sped off, leaving their fellow-conspirators behind. A chase of a mile and a half ended with their surrender after Deputy Warden Glenn Carpenter's revolver shot tore open a tire.

Meanwhile, guards captured Paul Lawman, 33, and John L. Sullivan, 35, both serving robbery terms, near the prison wall, and Leo Thifault, 24, also a robber, was captured on the roof.

Warden Harry Jackson suspended Guard Day, "pending investigation," and all six of the convicts were placed in "detention cells."

State's Attorney General Thomas Read said he would consult with Gov. Luren D. Dickinson and ask for a part in the investigation.

An inquiry still is going on into the escape and recapture of four long term convicts at the Northern Branch prison in Marquette last Sept. 25. In that break the convicts took four state officials as hostages on a futile dash across northern Michigan.

An error in printing the playground levy ballot was largely responsible for the same error being carried in the attractive poster which the Republican party got out and had distributed throughout the city. According to the board of elections office, the error was carried on the first official ballots, but workers there caught it and returned the ballot for re-printing. The Republican workers however, used the first printing when their posters were made up and so the error got wide distribution. It says that the playground levy would impose a two-tenth of one mill levy on real estate which would amount to 20 cents for each $100 of real estate valuation. This of course is wrong. It would amount only to two cents a hundred, or 20 cents on a $1,000 valuation.

ILLNESS FATAL

J. R. Rinehart, Ex-Mansfielder, Dies at Home in Crestline.

CRESTLINE—Jerome R. Rinehart, 69, former Mansfield resident, died early today at his home, 358 Henry street, following a lingering illness.

Mr. Rinehart was born in Morrow county, June 17, 1870, but had lived the greater part of his life in Mansfield. He was formerly employed at the Mansfield Tire and Rubber company.

Surviving are his wife, Linda, at home; a sister, Mrs. Leah Leathem of Iberia, and four brothers, Alpha D., Eldon A., and Hylas E., of Mansfield, and Carl of Toledo.

Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p. m. Wednesday at the home with Rev. H. S. Garnes of St. Luke's Lutheran church in Mansfield officiating. Burial will be in Mansfield cemetery.

NAMED HEAD OF REFORM SCHOOL

Superintendent of Xenia Home for Soldiers, Sailors Gets Post at Lancaster.

(By International News Service)

COLUMBUS—Capt. Harold L. Hays, head of the Ohio Soldiers and Sailors' Orphans' Home at Xenia, will become superintendent of the Boys' industrial school at Lancaster about Dec. 1, Welfare Director Charles L. Sherwood announced today.

Sherwood offered the post at Lancaster to Hays a few weeks ago, but Hays said he could not accept until he was granted a release from his duties at Xenia by the home's board of trustees. The board met yesterday at the call of its chairman, Herbert Mooney, and granted the release.

Mooney, who is also assistant welfare director, said that Hays would divide his time between the two institutions until his successor is appointed at Xenia.

At Lancaster Hays will succeed A. R. Harsh, who resigned after serving at the institution nearly 30 years. He had been superintendent since January, 1928. The position pays $3,600, plus maintenance.

Captain Hays, a native of Washington C. H., is 42 years old. He received his degree from Ohio State university's college of commerce and business administration in 1923. From 1923 to 1930 he served as chief clerk and examiner in the state civil service commission, and then became head of hte orphans' home at Xenia.

Hays, married and the father of two childhen, holds his commission in the Ohio national guard.

KILLS INVALID DAUGHTER, 40, HIMSELF IN 'MERCY SLAYING'

(By Associated Press)

CLEVELAND — Police Detective Ralph Kennedy described today as a mercy slaying and suicide the case of David J. Jenkins 69, and his invalid only child, Mrs. Florence Covert, 40, found shot to death in her bedroom.

The bodies were discovered yesterday afternoon by her husband, Stanley, 43, upon his return from an automobile trip to Ravenna.

Covert said his wife had been ill most of her life and was bedridden most of the last two years following an operation when her baby was born dead.

Mrs. James Agnew, who lives across the street from the Covert residence, told Detective Kennedy she was present a month ago when Mrs. Covert said, "Papa, please get a gun and do away with us."

"Oh, my girl," Mrs. Agnew quoted Jenkins as replying, "we don't want to do anything like that."

"Now Papa, you promised," the daughter said, and Mrs. Agnew intervened in the conversation at this point and tried to cheer them.

Covert said his wife more than once talked to him about killing herself, but that his father-in-law had never given him any suicide warnings.

Both Jenkins and his daughter were shot in the head with a revolver.

DIES WHILE ON VISIT TO CITY

Mrs. Annie Munson, of Akron, Stricken At Age 83.

Mrs. Annie Waelde Munson, 83, of Akron, died early Sunday at General hospital following a brief illness. Mrs. Munson had been visiting her niece and nephew, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Fovarque, Vonhof voulevard.

Born in Saegertown, Pa., Oct. 26, 1856, Mrs. Munson, who had visited here a number of times, is survived by a sister, Miss Kathryn Waelde of Akron; a brother, A. G. Waelde of Boston, Mass., and several nieces and nephews.

The body was removed to the Finefrock funeral home to remain until Tuesday and then taken to Akron. Funeral services will be held at the First Congregational church in Akron at 2 p. m. Tuesday, with D[illegible] erkin officiating. Burial will be in Glendale cemetery.

CONSERVATIVES SIGHT HALT ON SPENDING PLANS

Cite Brighter Business Picture as Evidence President Need Not Press Program.

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON—Conservative hopes are rising today that improved economic conditions and political factors will persuade President Roosevelt to avoid bitterly controversial proposals in the next Congress and prevent further shot-in-the-arm lending-spending legislation.

National income, including that of the troubled farmer, is going up.

The nation enters a breathing spell now after adjournment of the special session with Roosevelt's political prestige higher than at any time since his second election three years ago. Better business and general acceptance of his foreign policy are the reasons.

One year from today the nation should know who the next president will be. The parties meet in seven months to name their tickets.

A numerous contingent of congressional Democrats who bucked Roosevelt on several issues appears now to be ready to ride with the New Deal again if the road is not too bumpy.

All that is known of the Roosevelt program so far is that he will ask authorization for a $1,300,000,000 naval expansion program. Expenditures for national defense are expected to continue at $2,000,000,000 annually.

Seek Slum Clearance.

It is practically certain that the administration will press again for a large scale slum clearance program at which Congress balked in the last regular session.

The coalition of Republicans and conservative Democrats who mauled the administration last session is expected to go into action next January for amendment of New Deal labor legislation, both to change the National Labor Relations act, which is regarded by employers as biased in favor of employes, and to obtain exemptions from the wage-hour act, at least for the higher paid brackets of employes.

The president is in good position now to continue to strengthen his hold on the party and to claim the 1940 nomination for himself or someone of his own choosing, such as Secretary of State Cordell Hull.

But a recurrence in the next Congress of the spectacular intra-party battles of 1937-38-39 could jolt him from command of the Democratic national convention.

W. E. SCOTT DIES

Long Illness Fatal to Monroe Resident; Rites Tuesday.

William Edgar Scott, 71, Richland county native, died Sunday at his home in Monroe township, four miles south of Mansfield, after a lingering illness. He was born in Springfield township, Feb. 23, 1868.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Frank Biddle of North Hollywood, Calif., and Mrs. L. C. Rein of Mansfield; a son, Thomas Halden Scott of Monroe township; three sisters, Mrs. William Carter of Springfield township; Mrs. Ollie Catlin of Willard, and Mrs. Marion Mann of Cleveland; a brother, John Scott of Springfield township, and eight grandchildren. He was a member of the Butler Methodist Episcopal church.

The body was removed to the Finefrock funeral home where services will be held at 2 p. m. Tuesday. Burial will be in Lexington cemetery.

FAIR ENOUGH!

Maybe Ham-and-Egg Plan Backers Aren't Anxious To Win at Polls After All

—By WESTBROOK PEGLER

LOS ANGELES—Notwithstanding the religious fury of the suckers who have been seduced by promises of counterfeit money, there is reason to doubt that the promoters of the ham-and-eggs lunacy in California really want to win at the polls Tuesday. Should they win, the racket would pass into a new and really dangerous phase.

Their nominee for dictator, Roy G. Owens, author of a program of economic nihilism and late contributor of economic theories to the publications of Father Divine, would take the entire state treasury under his own hand without any possibility of legal restraint by the courts or the governor.

That is a possibility too real for frivolous treatment by the worried and bewildered opponents of the madness, but it is also true that once Owens acquired these powers he would be in a position to repudiate his associates in a promotion which started as a typical Los Angeles aberration and silence any criticism from them as an effort to impair the capacity of the people to produce goods, services and conveniences.

At present the members of the ham-and-eggs movement contribute one cent a day, and the promoters claim 350,000 members. Thus they probably have an income of $3,500 a day in pennies wheedled from the poor, plus further amounts derived from special offerings for emergencies, such as their Liberty Bell fund, their Easter fund and their social security fund.

The Liberty Bell collection was an emergency sacrifice in the process of which the members were induced to send in their membership cards accompanied by contributions and received them back adorned by little bell-shaped bronze-paper stickers.

The ostensible intention was to cast a new Liberty Bell to be rung as a curfew on economic slavery, but inasmuch as curfew time has not yet arrived, the bell remains unfinished business.

The associates of Mr. Owens in this work of emancipation include one Willis Allen, described as an advertising man, who on Jan. 18, 1937, was fined $100 and placed on probation for two years in the federal court on his plea of nolo contendere to an indictment charging misuse of the mails in connection with the sale of a hair restorer.

Mr. Allen might prosper in the ham-and-eggs movement, but experience in the racket to date has shown that then, again, he mightn't, for there have been many fallings-out among the astonishing and ever-churning company.

So he and his comrades in the holy work have to consider that as long as ham-and-eggs remains a crusade it is a thing of living beauty, but that once it succeeds it will pass into the hands of one man who knows all about them and their methods and motives and might not only throw them out but punish them for protesting. He would have power to do so under their own amendment.

Moreover, the spirit of the campaign has been such as to suggest that the promoters do not seriously care for the risk of attempting to run California, which still includes, especially in its northern reaches, some men and women who would be likely to resist confiscation of their property and suppression of their liberties.

These promoters are not crusaders but political pitchmen lacking the inner fire and cunning of Hitler and Mussolini and lacking also the attachment, even the confidence, of their followers, who are devoted not to personalities but to the illusion of $30 every Thursday, even in counterfeit money.

Yet the campaign may now be out of their control—too large, boisterous and heedless to be stopped—for in southern California and all the counties in which the immigrant dust-bowl pickers have established the right to vote, the "what-have-I-got-to-lose?" sentiment is strong, and the grotesque cry "ham-and-eggs" rises out of the clamor of groups arguing endlessly.

Reason and the love of liberty are so far gone that the opposition doesn't dare use speakers who, in normal times and places, would be heard in thoughtful debate.

For that reason, and on the theory that in the present confusion only a screwball can beat a screwball, the opposition has selected as its greatest hopes Upton Sinclair and old Doc Townsend, who are receiving vicious abuse from those who once praised their names and praise from those who used to ridicule them.

Hollywood Speaks---

—By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—There's a different atmosphere on the set of the new Carole Lombard picture. "Vigil In the Night," because a big "comeback" is in progress. No star's return this time, but a vanished art's—"sideline music."

It's not quite the same as it was. Different times, different weapons. Mood music faces the challenge of the sound-electric age in its old field. The portable organ is electric.

At the keyboard sits Geoffrey Gledhill, survivor of the days when every movie stage had its musical mood-setters and Hollywood employed from two to 300 musicians to stir the hearts of its high-priced puppets as they faced the cameras. Beside him, with her violin, is Dolores Ordoqui, who started in the business a while before Gledhill did—back in its beginnings, in fact, in the Mack Sennett heyday.

The practically extinct art killed by talkies which made silence during shooting essential—originated by chance one day when Harry McCoy, a Sennett comedian, sat down at a set piano and began playing. His friends all laughed, not at his performance but because gay music is likely to have that effect. Music brought cheer, and cheer pumped up the morale, and pretty soon the word—and the music—got around to other stages.

Talkies stopped all that, and the mood-catering trade slumped. Directors, actors, everybody else were floored by the sound mechanism, and sideline music was one of the first victims of their nervousness. A few hardy souls remained loyal, however. Norma Shearer liked to work up to an emotion by music's aid, and Lon Chaney until his death kept the organ and violin going on his favorite "Let the Rest of the World Go By." Marion Davies—who had Dolores Ordoqui and three other music-makers for all her pictures—was another, her pet tune being "Don't Ever Leave Me." (Dolores wouldn't have left her if she hadn't stopped making pictures.) And Richard Dix (who called for "St. Louis Blues") used mooders consistently.

"It had to come back," says Dolores. "It's so useful in keeping a company's spirits up. We don't interfere with anything, because we're watching constantly—and we're trained to sense when music will be welcome and when it will be a distraction from business. When the buzzer sounds for quiet, we stop playing immediately. Nobody has to tell us when to stop—or when to start, either. That's our specialty—just knowing."

So the mood musician must be up on her toes as well as on her notes. They choose the tunes carefully, consult the script clerk about the scene coming up, and whether it's a tear-jerker or a light or comic number they act accordingly. They can, if need be, turn on the schmalz although both Miss Ordoqui and Gledhill can look offended if one suggests that such musical excess is the stock-in-trade of the sideline musician.

"I think we actually save the studios money," says Dolores optimistically. "An English actress the other day expressed surprise at having music on the set. Had never seen anything like it in the English studios. But she had to do a crying scene, and she told us later that we helped her get the tears immediately. That saved time, didn't it?"

Try Hints From Latin Neighbors

By ALICE LYNN BARRY

Why not try recipes from our Latin American neighbors, starring their spicy delicacies on your menus, next time a party is in order?

Chile Con Carne, one of the most popular of Latin American dishes, is a delicacy which comes in cans these days. As a thirst quencher serve Mexican Cafe. Spice cake is another Latin American favorite that will add interest to a "good neighbor" menu. To add to the fun, prizes for the best rhumba or tango will help things along.

Mexican Cafe is made by folding one-eighth teaspoon cinnamon and one-eighth teaspoon nutmeg into whipped cream (one-half cup before whipping). Add in generous spoonfuls to six cups of fresh, hot coffee. It can be made the same way with recaffeinated coffee, if you have guests who prefer it.

Favorite Dessert.

A favorite dessert in any Latin American country is as simple as this: Serve a generous portion of cream cheese for each guest, with a big dab of rich preserves on the plate beside it. Whole guavas, which you can buy in tins, or your own quince jelly, will be especially good. Guava jelly, currant jelly and apple butter are alternate sweets for this cheese goody. Want the Spanish name of the guava preserve? It's Casvas de Guyaba. Crisp saltines or toasted water biscuits are served with this dessert.

Marriage Meddlers

By ADELE GARRISON

Continuation of "Married Comrades"

THE MAN and the woman we suspected of trying to lure Dicky into a trap of some kind came into the restaurant with a certain furtive wariness. They stood just inside the door for a second while their eyes went to every corner of the room. Then the woman spoke to the head waiter as the latter came up to them. He nodded and guided them to a different table than the one they had occupied the night before. It was situated close to the door, so that an exit from it would not be conspicuous. It had places for three, one of which was next the wall. I noticed and my knowledge made me distinctly uneasy—that the man and the woman took the outside seats, leaving the inner one vacant. Anyone occupying that inner seat, if his companions did not wish him to leave, could not get away without making a scene.

But Harry approved the table heartily.

"They couldn't have picked a better one for us if we'd told 'em just what we wanted," he muttered. "Get set, Lil! I'll spell you on the lip reading again, if we can't hear what they say. But we're much nearer them tonight. I doubt if we'll have to do much lip reading. But you, Lady Fair, had better get ready to memorize their stuff, if they talk in code again—which I doubt. I don't know why! I've just got a hunch."

"It's hardly worthwhile ordering a full dinner." This was the man's first observation. "We'd better just get a snack. We won't be here long, you know, after he gets here."

"Isn't this the hour you named?" he queried. "He ought to be along any minute."

"He ought to be," the woman said, "but, as you very well know, we haven't been able to trace him since last night."

Her gangster companion spat out an oath.

"Did you ever figure that Bruno may have double-crossed you, that he may have—"

The rest of the sentence was inaudible to me, for he dropped his voice as if by instinct, but Lillian read his lips and finished the sentence for me with a low but distinct murmur from the side of her mouth.

"He may have made the snatch himself," she repeated, then added a much needed adjuration, still in the same tone, inaudible to anybody two feet away.

"Get hold of yourself! She means what happened last night, which didn't really touch the Dicky-bird. He'll be along any minute and you don't want to call attention to yourself by appearing agitated or even interested."

"I'm all right." I said hastily, for the woman was speaking again. "Listen!"

"Not a chance in the world," she was saying confidently. "He wouldn't dare."

Their talk all had to be read from their lips now, but Lillian managed to give me a steady stream of words for memorizing.

"We won't have to make a snatch," the woman was saying. "He'll come through. He's too leary of that d—d lady wife of his. He'll do anything rather than have her put wise."

"But isn't his wife's old man that—"

"Button up your big mouth!" the woman said savagely. "Some things aren't even to be whispered. Yes, that's the guy, but don't you mention him or even think of him again."

"Okay," the man answered with surprising docility. "Here comes the waiter. What do you want? I'm going to have a drink."

"No you're not!" the woman exclaimed. "Not until this thing's in the bag. We'll wait to order," she added to the waiter, "until our friend joins us."

My ears had been tensed to listen to Lillian, but my eyes had been free, and I clutched at her knee beneath the table.

"Look at the woman with the blonde wig," I whispered.

HOROSCOPE

For Tuesday, November 7

THE SUDDEN precipitation of what may prove to be a "golden opportunity," an open-sesame to the long-dreamed-of land of heart's desire, is the auguary based on this day's lunar and mutual aspects. There are signs of quite unforeseen and unpredictable events, which will occur with really devastating force. The outcome will be happy and profitable if clear judgment is observed and there is a justified outlay of funds. Extravagance and rash moves, as well as some underlying deceptions, might interfere with unusual openings for progress, adventure and romance. But radical change in either the physical outlook or the mental outlook is assured on this day.

If It Is Your Birthday.

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a year of sudden and quite unexpected events which will have a direct bearing on the future and its fortunes. It is advised that due consideration be given alluring prospects, as there may be lurking dangers or debatable intrigues. Lavishness in outlay of money might be a defeating factor to this grand surprise.

A child born on this day may have unusual talents, with originality and independence of thought and action. It may be adventurous and romantic, with intellectual leanings to the occult, metaphysical or scientific experimentation.

KERCHIEF HATS

Inspired by carnival costumes of Brazil are insouciant little hats of white straw with detachable handkerchiefs which may be changed to match the color scheme of dress or suit. Brief brims dip in front and swoop upward in back with the bandana handkerchiefs forming the crown and tying under the chin or at back.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

BY Shepard Barclay

"The Authority on Authorities"

BETWEEN TWO FIRES

If you are opposed by two players who know how to use every device of defensive bridge to beat points out of you, it is well to be a bit wary. You are between two fires. Perhaps the one at your left has made a "trap" pass of your opener. If his partner then doubles, it is hazardous business to redouble to beg a take-out from your partner, unless you feel sure he will interpret it that way.

	♠ 4 ♥ 6 4 2 ♦ J 7 5 3 2 ♣ 10 8 4 2
♠ A Q 8 5 2 ♥ A J 7 3 ♦ A 10 9 4 ♣ None	N. W. E. S.	♠ K 3 ♥ K Q 10 9 8 ♦ 6 ♣ Q 7 6 5 3
	♠ J 10 9 7 6 ♥ 5 ♦ K Q 8 ♣ A K J 9

(Dealer: South. Neither side vulnerable.)

At one table of a duplicate game South bid 1-Spade on this deal and it was passed to East, who doubled, so as to give his partner a possible chance for a business or penalty pass. South decided to chance a redouble, not caring particularly how North interpreted it. When the latter passed, East and West set him three tricks, for a score of 1,0000 points, giving them top and him bottom on the deal.

Another West passed South's spade bid, but in this case East bid 2-Hearts, then South 2-Spades. West decided there might be a possible slam in the cards, so went for it by jumping to 4-Hearts. South had the temerity to double this and West gleefully redoubled. An overtrick was made, producing a total score of 980, including the 300 duplicate bonus for game, but this was not as good a score as that made by the pair which was wise enough to double in the East on the first round.

♠ 10 5 4 2 ♥ 9 7 5 ♦ J 9 ♣ 8 6 3 2	N. W. E. S.	♠ A K Q 7 3 ♥ A Q J 10 6 3 ♦ 7 4 ♣ None
	♠ J 8 6 ♥ K ♦ A K 6 ♣ A K Q J 10 4

Dealer: East. Neither side vulnerable.)

If East bids 1-Heart on this deal, what would you do in the South?

Danzig has an area of 754 square miles—little more than half that of Rhode Island, smallest state in the U. S., with 1,248 square miles. Danzig has a population of 407,000 persons—fewer than 44 of the United States.

THEATERS

MAUREEN O'HARA, the Irish actress "discovered" by Charles Laughton and appearing with him in "Jamaica Inn" and "The Hunchback of Notre Dame," has been signed to star in "A Bill of Divorcement"—a difficult task for any actress because the Katherine Hepburn-John Barrymore version was one of the greatest of films. . . . "Pinocchio" and "Swiss Family Robinson" are about ready for release. . . . The first one is Walt Disney's second full length animated cartoon film and probably will be given general exhibition during the holidays. . . .

Chico Plays "Beer Barrel."

The highlight of the "Marx Bros. At The Circus" is Chico's piano number which is "Beer Barrel Polka" with some amazing variations. Harpo too, plays one of his famous harp numbers, and it's Harpo's inimitable pantomime acting which provides a large share of the comedy. Kenny Baker and Florence Rice are seen as the youthful owner of the circus and the equestrienne; Nat Pendleton is Goliath, the Giant, and Eve Arden, a newcomer, is Peerless Pauline. The picture is a current attraction at the Ohio.

Players "In Person."

Three motion picture players, two of whom were once top ranking stars, will appear "in person" at the Madison theater on Nov. 16 when "What A Life" is presented there. The stage show has Jackie Coogan, one of the greatest kid actors in screen history and who paved the way for Shirley Temple more than 20 years ago, and who appears accasionally in films today, is the star of the stage show. Josephine Dunn, who graduated from Paramount's school with Buddy Rogers and Thelma Todd, and who starred in "Excess Baggage" and "The Jazz Singer;" and Frank McGlynn, one of the best known character actors, are both in the cast. The reserved seat board for the show is open now.

War Theme.

Probably because of its war theme and the fact that Robert Donat is tops since "Good Bye Mr. Chips," the two-year-old "Knight Without Armor" is being brought to the Majestic for three days, starting tomorrow. This is a story of the revolution in Russia, with Donat as an Englishman and Marlene Dietrich as a Russian countess, thrown together as they attempt to reach the border and safety. The second feature will be "Trade Winds" with Joan Bennett and Fredric March.

Other Woman's Side.

"In Name Only" which is the number one feature at the Park, is one of the few picture dramas to develop the "other woman's" side in the old triangle. The wife is pictured as wily, dishonest and unprincipled, while the other woman is depicted as understanding and self-sacrificing—in fact, a reversal of the old formula. Carole Lombard is the other woman and Kay Francis as the wife, with Cary Grant as the husband. "Goldwyn Follies" is the second attraction.

Andy Hardy At Ritz.

It is the father instead of the son who gets into serious difficulties in "Andy Hardy Gets Spring Fever." All Andy does this time is fall in love with his teacher while Judge Hardy becomes involved in a swindle which threatens his life savings and his reputation. But Andy gets launched on his non-professional career as a theatrical producer, and in the end he gets over his broken heart and makes up with his old sweetheart, Ann Rutherford. Mickey Rooney and Lewis Stone are in the role of son and father. It's at the Ritz.

Informally Speaking...

Monday, Nov. 6.

Lucy, dear:

Marianne

Here it is November already. Hasn't the fall passed quickly? Or perhaps it just seems so because it has been especially beautiful. Except for a few snow flurries one day the other week, most of the weather this autumn season has been fine and bright. . . . So it's rather hard to believe that Christmas is just little more than a month away.

* * * * *

Probably the most exciting news today, Lucy, is that of a new arrival in Flushing, L. I., N. Y.—Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Endly are the parents of a baby girl, born Saturday morning. . . . I'm sure you remember the Endlys (she was Elizabeth Davey before her marriage), because they were both life-long residents of Mansfield before moving East several years ago.

* * * * *

IN FACT, this was a busy week-end for most members of the Davey family. . . . Martha (who's attending Harcum Junior college in Bryn Mawr, Pa. this year) was in Philadelphia for an informal dance on Friday night and a mask ball on Saturday at the Phi Delta Theta fraternity house on the University of Pennsylvania campus. . . . Her brother, John, you know, is a member of that fraternity and a senior at the university.

* * * * *

Speaking of new babies, as we were a few paragraphs back, I met Mrs. Harry Beidle downtown the other day, and she showed me the first pictures of her granddaughter, who was born early in September—She's the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Beidle who now live in Wichita Falls, Tex. . . . And for one so young, I must say, Lucy, the baby would make any photographer happy—that is if I can judge from the poses she assumed in those pictures!

* * * * *

NEWS received this morning from Boston, Mass. only goes to prove further what I've always said, Lucy—our college students do get places no matter where they go to school. . . . Barbara Hartman (daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Hartman) has just been elected to the "Mummers" at Simmons college. . . . "Mummers" is an honor society of the Simmons Dramatic club, and Barb earned the required number of points for membership by participating in various club activities. . . . She's a senior in the school of business and secretarial studies there this year.

* * * * *

Since she entered Stephens college at Columbia, Mo., early this fall, I understand that Jeannette Isaly (daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Isaly) has been more than busy—with classes, study and sorority rush parties. . . . Jeannette has been pledged to Zeta Phi Delta, local sorority on the campus . . . so now she'll have all kinds of duties to perform for active members of the group—such as attend study hall, take part in social welfare work and act as a hostess at parties and dances. . . . The first big social function of the season will be the annual Pan-Hellenic ball this coming week-end, when Don Bestor's orchestra will play for the dancing.

* * * * *

YOU'LL have to pay our town a visit between now and Thanksgiving (the new one), Lucy, so that you can see Mrs. George Gillespie while she's here. . . . She was formerly Helen Weller, you know, and she's visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. S Weller. . . . She and her husband make their home in Salt Lake City, Utah.

* * * * *

Mrs. E. H. Schaub and her young son, David, left yesterday morning for Hollidaysburg, Pa., where they will join their husband and father, who has been there since mid-summer. . . . In case you didn't know, Lucy, Hollidaysburg is a suburb of Altoona, and Mr. Schaub is employed there by the General Tire company. . . . Mrs. Schaub's mother, Mrs. K. R. Smith, and her sister, Mrs. Jack Berno, gave a farewell tea in her honor Friday afternoon.

* * * * *

And that seems to wind up the news for today, Lucy—more next week.

Lovingly,

Marianne

MISS MARJORIE HOUT BRIDE OF V. L. BISEL

Formal Double-Ring Ceremony Performed At Tabernacle Sunday Afternoon; Couple Now On Wedding Trip Through State.

WITH her floor-length dress of white velvet Miss Marjorie Ellen Hout, who became the bride of Virgil Lowell Bisel, Bellville, yesterday, wore a triple strand of pearls which her sister had worn for her wedding, and which belonged to an aunt of the two girls. The bride's gown was made with short puffed sleeves and a fitted waist. The skirt was full, bustle-backed, and gave a train effect. Her veil was fingertip length held in place with an orange blossom band.

The former Miss Hout carried a shower bouquet of white calla lilies. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Frederick Hout, 171 Blymyer avenue, she was given in marriage by her father at the altar of the Grace Gospel Tabernacle, East Third street, at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon. Rev. H. E. Tropf, pastor, officiated for the double ring ceremony.

Attending Miss Hout were her two sisters, Miss Velma Marie, and Miss Florence Irene. Velma wore a peacock blue taffeta gown made in the empire style when she served as maid of honor, while Florence wore rose taffeta made like her sister's. Both attendants carried yellow pompons and pink roses.

Alfred Hahn, brother-in-law of the bride, was best man, and Ralph Wadsworth, cousin of the bride, and Clarence Bilbee, cousin of Mr. Bisel, served as ushers.

When the bride came up the aisle to the palm, and fern banked altar, Miss Ruth Tropf played the nuptial selections including "At Dawning," the wedding marches and "Traumeraie" softly during the ceremony. Robert Early, cousin of the bride sang "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life" by Victor Herbert, and George McNair played "Indian Love Call" as a violin solo. Beauty baskets and seven branch candelabra completed the altar decorations.

Members of the immediate families and the wedding party were entertained at a reception at the bride's home following the ceremony, and then Mr. and Mrs. Bisel left for a short motor trip through Ohio. They will be at home this week on Park avenue west. For traveling Mrs. Bisel wore an olive green dress with brown accessories, and a burnt orange pompon corsage.

The bride's mother wore a strained-glass purple crepe dress with black accessories and a sorsage of Roosevelt roses, while Mrs. Bisel was attired in plum colored crepe with black accessories, and Talisman roses for the ceremony.

Mrs. Bisel was graduated from the Mansfield Senior high school, and has been employed as secretary to Dr. A. C. Butterfield. Mr. Bisel, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Bisel, Bellville, was graduated from the high school there, and is employed at the Montgomery-Ward company.

Informal Ceremony Performed At Mount Gilead Saturday

An informal ceremony was read at the Trinity Methodist parsonage at Mt. Gilead Saturday at 2:30 p. m. by Rev. L. Eugene Rush for Miss Helen Lucille Hall and William Elmer Whited. The bride, daughter of Mrs. Grace McMillin, 280 West Dickson avenue, was attired in a stone blue dress with wine accessories, and wore a corsage of Talisman roses.

She was attended by Miss Jean Mathews, who wore a teal blue dress with black accessories and a corsage of pink roses. Dexter Thomas Whited, Fredericktown, served as best man.

After a short wedding trip to the western part of the state, Mr. and Mrs. Whited will be at home in Fredericktown where the bridegroom, son of Mrs. Mary Adeline Whited, is employed at the Sunglow Manufacturing company.

The reception was held Saturday afternoon at the bride's aunt's home. Mrs. Alwilda Manross, aunt, served a dinner at a long table decorated with white tapers and a centerpiece of white roses and pompons.

The bride attended Mansfield Senior high school, and was graduated last year from Willis high school at Delaware. She has been employed at the Evergreens here. Mr. Whited attended the schools at Fredericktown.

Methodist Women To Hold Annual Safari Luncheon

Mansfield Methodist women will join with thousands of Methodist women throughout the United States this month to participate in an observance of Fellowship Week from Nov. 12 to 19. The most important event of the program will be the safari luncheon Nov. 17 at the First church to which all Methodist women in the city have been invited.

Borrowing their idea from Congressional committee hearings, the women will sit in on an examination of the activities and accomplishments of their church in the fields of social, welfare and missionary work. Programs will be held some time during the week in 2,000 local churches.

The week, designed to emphasize the story of the church's worldwide service, is sponsored by the Million Unit Fellowship Movement which was organized to stimulate spiritual life in the church and to provide a better financial underwriting for its missions and benevolences.

Planned by the women's department of the fellowship movement, the hearing will be the women's third annual "safari," or journey of exploration into the activities of the church's eight world service commissions. Mrs. J. M. Avann, head of the women's department, outlined the program plan for the united meeting, which will be carried out in each church by local women leaders.

Representatives of each commission will be summoned to appear before the local committee. They are the American Bible society, the Board of Hospitals, Homes and Deaconess Work; the Board of Temperance, Prohibition and Public Morals; the Board of Pensions and Relief, the Board of Education, the Board of Home Missions and Church Extension, the Commission on World Peace, and the Board of Foreign Missions.

SECOND LUNCHEON.

The second lecture luncheon of the Mansfield Federation of Women will be held Thursday at 11 a. m. at the Madison theater. Avis Clamitz Shulman, writer and lecturer, will be the speaker. Luncheon will be served at the Women's Club at 1 p. m., and reservations will be accepted until 6 p. m. Nov. 8 at the Club.

MISS KARL HOSTESS.

Miss Garnet Karl was hostess Saturday night at her home, 597 Bowman street, for a party. Games were played and prizes won by Mrs. Richard James and Don Ross. A buffet style luncheon was served from a table decorated in a yellow and green color scheme. A large bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums formed the centerpiece.

Catholic Ladies Celebrate 40th Anniversary Sunday

MEMBERS of the C. L. of C. celebrated their 40th anniversary with a buffet supper party in the ball room of the Mansfield-Leland hotel yesterday evening. There were 95 members and guests in attendance, and among the guests were: Mrs. Helen Doyle, supreme president, Springfield; Mrs. Mildred Hagan, Dayton; Miss Sarah Dunn, Crestline; Mrs. Emma Durkin, Newark; Mrs. Anna Davis, Cleveland; Mrs. Mary Comer, Cincinnati; and others from Galion, Shelby and London.

Mrs. R. C. Straub was the toastmistress, and Mrs. A. J. McHugh opened the program with a tribute to "Charter Members." Miss Marie Kalbfleisch sang a number of old ballads, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Frank Westrick.

Rt. Rev. Msgr. R. C. Goebel addressed the group with a speech on the evils of Communism and the need for the preservation of peace. The history of the Council from the time of its organization in 1899 until the present day was traced by Mrs. J. B. Schiska, recording secretary. She stated that there were 20 members in the group at the time of the first meeting and now there are 130.

Mrs. Doyle told of the founding of the organization in 1896, which was known as the Catholic Ladies of Ohio until 1909, when it was changed to the present name. There are now councils in Kentucky, Indiana, Ohio and Michigan. Mrs. Frank Kmetz gave a reading, and the program was closed with the group singing "The Star Spangled Banner."

The speakers' table and buffet table were centered with ruby colored mums, and the smaller round tables were centered with red roses. Mrs. Doyle, and charter members, Mrs. Rose Shill, Miss Katherine Kaiser and Miss Reginia Kaiser of this city and Mrs. Anna Moore of South Richmond, Va., were presented with shoulder corsages.

Members of the committee in charge of arrangements included: Mrs. D. L. Maxwell, Mrs. Vincent Montgomery, Mrs. Schiska, Mrs. W. B. Guisinger and Mrs. H. S. Kampf. There will be a social meeting in the club rooms in the Bird building tomorrow evening with Mrs. Mary Fink as chairlady.

Masquerade Party Event of Social Club

A masquerade party was held Saturday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dodge, Bowman street, for members of L'Allegro club and their guests. Pinochle was played at four tables, and prizes went to Mrs. Samuel Morgan, J. C. Hamilton, Mrs. C. L. Mauk and Arthur Shay.

Luncheon was served buffet style following the play. The next regular meeting will be Friday at the home of Mrs. William Thomas, Michigan avenue, Lincoln Heights.

Buffet-Bridge Planned For University Club

The social season for the University club is really under way now, and another of those clever announcements by Karl Horn reveals plans for the next affair which will be held this Friday night at the Mansfield-Leland hotel. The event will be a buffet-bridge at 8:45 p. m.

There will be refreshments and a number of prizes at the informal function. Lloyd Brown is accepting reservations.

GIRLS SEEN AS NECESSARY EVIL

College Students Dislike Noise, Lip Rouge on Drinking Fountains.

NEW ORLEANS—(U.P.)—College men at Loyola university prefer their education without co-eds, but admit that the girls are "a necessary evil."

The Loyola Maroon, student publication, said most of the men polled complained about girls making a lot of noise and generally taking their minds off their work.

Other things they objected to were:

Lip rouge on the drinking fountain, incessant racket of high heels and general falsetto foolishness "desecrating the sanctity of study halls."

The Cherokees of North Carolina speak a "lipless language." Very few of their words require the lips to come together. Typical words are Tuckaseegee, Hiawassee, Junaluskee, Cullasajee, Nantahala.

Lexington Pair Wedded Oct. 10

Her parents' 37th wedding anniversary was chosen by Miss Pauline Van Dine for her marriage to Forest Foust. The quiet ceremony was read Oct. 10 at the Lutheran church in Newcomerstown, by Rev. Charles Foust, uncle of the bridegroom.

The former Miss Van Dine, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. F. Van Dine, Lexington, R. D. 2, wore a blue chiffon velvet dress and a corsage of Briarcliffe roses and baby chrysanthemums. She was attended by her sister, Miss Annabelle Van Dine, who wore a blue silk frock and a shoulder corsage of pink snapdragons and baby chrysanthemums.

Mr. Foust is the son of F. F. Foust, Lexington, R. D. 2. The young couple are now at home at the Foust residence.

ANNOUNCE MARRIAGE.

Mrs. Rose Milby, Adams street, and Joseph Novak, jr., 115 East Dickson avenue, were married at the Willard Lutheran church by Rev. H. L. Heffelfinger, Saturday at 1 p. m., it was announced today. Mrs. Joseph Novak, sr., mother of the bridegroom, entertained yesterday at a family dinner party for the pair. Mr. and Mrs. Novak will reside at the Adams street address, temporarily.

Bowl Candidates Not Limited to Undefeated Teams

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK—(AP)—The western team to play in the annual Rose Bowl classic New Year's day probably will be decided after Southern California and U. C. L. A. meet in Los Angeles.

But if you're interested in other teams that may go "Bowling" this winter, you can have your choice among Tennessee, Texas Aggies, Notre Dame, Cornell, Duquesne, Catholic University and perhaps a half dozen others.

The Trojans knocked Oregon State off the Pacific Coast conference peak last week by 19-7 while U. C. L. A. whipped California 20-7.

Oregon State, mighty Michigan, Nebraska and Utah were unceremoniously bumped out of the championship picture last week.

U. C. L. A. will be idle next Saturday and Southern California plays Stanford, so no change in the western half of the "Bowl" argument seems due this week. There's trouble in store for most of other sectional leaders, however.

East: Cornell managed to survive the letdown which followed the Ohio State triumph by means of blocking a couple of kicks to whip Columbia 13-7 and ranks about the best in the east. Colgate, an old rival, may put up another good argument this week. Duquesne, which downed Marquette, 21-13, plays North Carolina State's Wolfpack, 17-0 victims of North Carolina, while Catholic, 13-7 winner over Tulsa, plays little St. Anselm.

The biggest games outside of an intersectional tilt between comeback-bound Fordham, which beat Rice 13-7, are "Ivy League" affairs.

Princeton, 9-6 conqueror of Harvard, takes on Dartmouth, which improved its unbeaten record by walloping Yale 22-0. Harvard plays Army, which gave Notre Dame a good scrap before going down 14-0; Columbia meets Navy, 13-6 victim of Pennsylvania, and Penn plays Penn State. Pitt-Carnegie, Temple-Holy Cross and Yale-Brown are other standouts.

South: Tennessee, heading for its second straight unbeaten season, looked almost unbeatable in stopping Louisiana State cold, 20-0, and doesn't intend to be beaten this week by the citadel. Kentucky, which remained unbeaten by tieing Alabama, 7-7, is the Vols most dangerous rival. The wildcats take on Georgia Tech this week in a game which should give the winner a tie with Tennessee for the South Eastern conference lead. Tulane, with the same objective in sight, tackles Alabama while L. S. U. plays Mississippi State.

Mid-West: The fans stopped holding their breath after Illinois trounced Michigan 16-7 last Saturday, figuring nothing more can happen now to surprise them. That left Ohio State, 24-0 winner over Indiana, in possession of the Big Ten lead and Notre Dame as the only undefeated and untied Team of importance in the mid-west.

This week the Buckeyes play Chicago, which did comparatively well in losing to Virginia, 47-0. Michigan, having learned it's never safe to fumble when a team coached by Bob Zuppke is around, faces Minnesota, defeated 14-7 when Northwestern shook Bill De Correvont loose for a long run. Iowa, tied for second place with Northwestern after beating Purdue 4-0, hopes to do as well against Notre Dame.

Missouri, after defeating Nebraska 27-13 on Paul Christman's remarkable passing, takes on N. Y. U. while Oklahoma, the circuit's only unbeaten survivor, takes a shot at a firstplace tie. The Sooners kept pace by trimming Iowa State 38-6 and next play Kansas State, 27-6 winner over Kansas Friday.

Southwest: The two Southwest conference favorites, Texas Aggies and Southern Methodist, are out to settle the championship this week. The winner likely will figure very prominently in "Bowl" talk. The Aggies beat Arkansas 27-0 last Saturday while S. M. U. was taking Texas, 10-0. The Methodists' only defeat was by one point against Notre Dame. Texas and Baylor, tied for second after the Bears' 27-0 win over Texas Christian, come together in another conference tilt while Arkansas and Rice play for the consolation.

Pacific Coast: Barring an upset by Stanford, which lost 27-7 to Santa Clara Saturday, there's not much doing on the west coast. Oregon State and Oregon, tied for second place in the conference, meet in one game while California plays Washington, which edged out Montana 9-0. Santa Clara faces an intersectional rival, Michigan State, while Washington State plays Idaho.

* * *

Rocky Mountain: Colorado, which lost its first three games this season, now heads the mountain states Big Seven after an amazing 21-14 triumph over Utah and has the week off to feel good about it.

McKinley Invades Tyger Lair In Week's Top Tilt

Sport Parade

By HENRY McLEMORE

NEW YORK—(U.P.)—Monday's grid-irony: Michigan must have an awful champaign hangover today after the party given by Bob Zuppke and Illinois . . . Michigan's new "point-a-minute" team played up to its name—but only for seven minutes . . . The Illinois victory not only increased Zuppke's reputation as a coach, but added to his prestige as a painter . . . He is first worker in oils ever to paint an entire state blue in two and a half hours. . . .

* * *

In beating Minnesota the Northwesterns finally shook loose Bill De Correvont and the youngster made his scrapbook come to life . . . For a few seconds he looked as good as his press clippings read . . . Tennessee stuck another rose in its hair by knocking off Louisiana State and the only thing that can keep the Vols out of the Rose Bowl is a discontinuance of transcontinental travel.

The Oregon trail doesn't lead to the Rose Bowl anymore . . . The Oregon State Beavers bowed out before Howard Jones' Southern California Trojans . . . The Trojans used only three first-string quarterbacks in the game which would indicate that Jones has finally cut down his squad to a neat, workable unit of 250 or thereabouts . . .

The Texas Aggies became Arkanses travellers on Saturday and did more to the Razorbacks than Armour or Swift could . . . Far above Cauyuga's waters loyal Cornellians were picking spots to leap from before a blocked kick enabled the big Red to down Columbia's small but game forces. . . . During most of this game the big Red was such a pale pink that even the Dies committee wouldn't have been interested. . . .

Oklahoma's burly sooners continued to stay as hot as a five-alarm fire in a celluloid collar factory . . . They had an easier time beating Iowa State that Ghandi has dressing. . . . T. C. U. continues to be a scourge . . . Last year it was the scourge of the southwest; now it's the scourge of its coach, Dutch Meyers . . . The Chinese never handled rice any better than Fordham did on Saturday . . .

Santa Clara beat Stanford by three touchdowns but won't get much credit, that being par for the Stanford course this year . . .

Seven District Contests On Tap Friday and Saturday; Bellville Entertains Butler.

By CHARLES MARTIN

WITH the Mansfield-Canton McKinley tussle at Stadium field headlining the list, the 1939 football season roars down the November home stretch with seven district settos scheduled for Friday and Saturday.

McKinley, which defeated Mansfield in the two schools initial meeting last fall, makes its debut before Mansfield fans Saturday afternoon.

Crestline high, the only undefeated and untied grid combine in this section, will not be in action. The Onondages closed their season last week by beating Shelby high, 13 to 0, at Shelby.

Bellville, handed its first setback in eight games by Madison, 13 to 7, last Friday, will attempt to regain its victory stride against Butler at Bellville Saturday in its annual Homecoming game.

The Rams of Madison high trek to Loudonville to tackle the Red Birds in a Saturday morning engagement.

In North Central Ohio conference games Friday night, Mt. Vernon travels to Marion to meet the championship Harding high Presidents and Bucyrus entertains Ashland. Galion and Shelby collide in a conference battle at Shelby Saturday afternoon. Fredericktown, with only one defeat on its record, plays at Danville Friday afternoon.

Coach Paul Snyder's Tygers registered its fifth win of the season last Saturday at Stadium field by walloping Ashland high, 40 to 0. Howard Hershey led the Mansfield attack by tallying three markers. Pfahler, Radovich, Harold LeMunyon scored the other touchdowns. The Tygers, who scored in every period, climaxed their touchdown parade with three markers in the third frame.

Crestline smashed over a touchdown in the second and final periods to topple Shelby. Bob Frye, crack Onondages' ball packer, moved into second place in the state scoring race. He tallied the last touchdown to bring his season's total to 109 points.

* * *

Co-captain Howard "Tick" Hamilton, of Bellville, added seven points to hoist his total to 125 points to hold a 16-point lead over his nearest rival.

CLEVELAND BARONS DROP 2-1 DECISION

CLEVELAND—(INS)—The Cleveland Barons were even with the record in the International-American hockey league today.

Looking fresh despite a train hop from Philadelphia where they edged the Philadelphia Eagles, 2 to 1, on Saturday night, the Barons dropped an overtime struggle to the Pittsburgh Hornets on home ice last night by the same margin.

After two scoreless periods the Cleveland icers played rings around the less experienced Hornets in the third period and their efforts were rewarded when Harold Jackson, husky young defense man, slammed the puck past Goalie Harvey Teno.

Showing plenty of fight, Pittsburgh came back with less than two minutes remaining in the game to knot the count. Mickey Drouillard slipped a neat pass to Pete Kelly who flipped the disc into the net.

Drouillard further distinguished himself by scoring the winning marker in the 10-minute overtime period, but Goalie Moe Roberts looked bad on the play. Drouillard's high shot bounded off Moe's chest and slithered down his back into the net.

PRINCETON—(INS)—Big Don Herring, the Princeton football player whose left leg was amputated Friday as the result of an injury suffered in the game with Brown, was reported improving at the hospital today.

Supplies Hold Rivals to Tie

THE Automotive Supplies are back home today after invading McKeesport, Pa., Sunday and battling the touted Olympics to a scoreless tie in a hard-fought contest.

* * * * * *

Coach Earl McMullen's aggregation turned back four McKeesport threats on the eight-yard line before gaining the tie.

* * * * * *

Al Schwaner tossed a forward pass to George Hummel in the final seconds of the game and the lanky end was tackled on the Olympics' one-yard line as the gun ended the tussle.

Twice during the opening half Schwaner attempted field goals from the McKeesport 25-yard line, but both tries fell short of their mark.

* * * * * *

Outside of the time the Supplies reached the one-yard line in the final period, the closest the Mansfielders were able to penetrate their rivals' territory was to the 20-yard stripe.

* * * * * *

Mansfield's stout forward wall was one of the important factors. The line turned back practically every thrust of the heavier McKeesport backs. The Supplies were outweighed by approximately 10 pounds per man.

All Stars Trip Rambling Rams

The Polish All Stars scored in every period yesterday to smother the Rambling Rams, 31 to 6, in a football contest at Taylor Disc field. Gemzer and J. Siwek led the scoring parade with a pair of touchdowns apiece.

The All Stars pushed over two markers in the initial frame to take a lead they never relinquished. The Rams scored their lone tally in the second quarter.

Score by periods:

Rambling Rams	0	6	0	0—6
Polish All Stars	12	7	6	6—31

THREE TEAMS SHARE LEAD IN NATIONAL HOCKEY LOOP

Surprisingly enough, the Montreal Canadians were up in front in the National Hockey league today in a tie with Chicago and Toronto for first place on points in the newly opened season.

* * *

The Canadians surprised the Chicago Black Hawks in Montreal last night by beating them 3 to 2 in a fast game in which the winners continually held the offensive.

* * *

The New York Rangers opened the season at Detroit by putting on a last period spurt to tie the score at 1-all. Neither team scored in the overtime period.

HARDGRAVE GETS POST

CINCINNATI—(INS)—Bubbles Hardgrave, former Cincinnati catcher, today had been signed as manager for the new Cincinnati club in the National professional indoor baseball league, and will come from St. Paul to take over control of the team November 13. Cincinnati plays in the western division of the new league.

Buck Regulars Not to See Much Action Against Chicago

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS—(AP)—Ohio State's "soft touch" game with Chicago's hapless Maroons—you can't call it a contest—headlines next weekend's 23-event football program involving Buckeye college squads.

The chances are that Coach Francis Schmidt's first-stringers will see little action against the Chicagoans.

The Bucks, riding in the conference driver's seat after Saturday's 24-0 conquest of Indiana, coupled with Iowa's 4-0 win over Purdue and Illinois' breath-taking 16-7 victory over Michigan's powerhouse, are expected to have exactly no trouble with Chicago.

Although seven of Saturday's games are in the Ohio conference, they have no bearing on the championship, which Muskingum tucked away Saturday as it beat Ohio Northern's Polar Bears 19 to 0.

BIG TEN STANDINGS

Team	W.	L.	T.	Pct.
Ohio State	3	0	0	1.000
Iowa	3	1	0	.750
Northwestern	3	1	0	.750
Michigan	2	1	0	.667

Purdue	0	1	1	.000
Chicago	0	1	0	.000
Minnesota	0	2	1	.000
Wisconsin	0	3	0	.000

The Muskies meet Heidelberg Saturday, but a Student Prince upset victory could not shake Muskingum out of the top spot.

De Sales of Toledo, the state's freshman football member and holder of the only clean record in Ohio, goes to Grand Rapids, Mich., Friday for its weekly chore and should easily keep its record unsullied.

Oberlin and John Carroll fell for the first time Saturday, leaving De Sales at the peake all alone. Oberlin fell 19-0 before a comeback Wooster Scot team, while Toledo swept John Carroll aside 20 to 0.

Here's the weekend slate:

Friday: De Sales at Grand Rapids, Mich.; Youngstown at Tennessee Tech.

Saturday: Ohio State at Chicago, Heidelberg at Muskingum, Wittenberg at Marietta, Denison at Oberlin, Bowling Green at Findlay, Case at Wooster, Ohio Northern at Mount Union, Capital at Otterbein, Alfred Holbrook at Morehead (Ky.), Boston University at Cincinnati, Baldwin Wallace at Akron, Defiance at St. Marys (Mich.), Miami at Ohio University, Ohio Wesleyan at Centre, Clarion at Hiram, Assumption at Bluffton, Kentucky at Wilberforce, Kent State at Western Reserve, Morris Harvey at Rio Grande, Arkansas A. and M. at John Carroll, and Toledo at Marshall.

Lions Take Lead By Beating Giants

Hand Heretofore Unbeaten New York Club An 18-14 Defeat to Top Western Division.

By TOM SILER

CHICAGO—(AP)—"Gloomy Gus" Henderson is wide open for the "miracle man" tag as his Detriot Lions, roll over the opposition in the National Pro Football League.

* * *

Gus' Lions are a roaring success in his first year as coach, having a record of six victories in seven games for the top spot in the league's western division and the best mark of any team in the loop.

Detroit has three tough tests ahead, but none harder than the one the Lions passed Sunday in turning back the New York Giants, champions and undefeated in 18 games previously. The Lions connected for four field goals, a new record for one game, and a touchdown to account for an 18-14 margin.

Phil Martinovich, College of the Pacific recruit whose release from the Cincinnati Benglas cost the Lions $1,000 a few weeks ago, booted three of the goals and Chuck Hanneman the other three-pointer.

The defeat left the Giants and Washington tied for first place in the eastern division. The Redskins eked out a 7 to 6 victory over Philadelphia.

The most colorful battle of the day went to the Chicago Bears, who outlasted the Green Bay Packers, 30 to 27. The victory put the Packers a full game behind the Lions and left them only a half game ahead of the third place Bears.

The fourth game of the Sunday slate went to Cleveland. The Rams defeated the hapless Chicago Cards, 14 to 0, on a muddy field. It was the Cards' seventh defeat in eight games. Pittsburgh and Brooklyn were rained out and will play tonight at Brooklyn.

Marching steadily toward the American Professional Football League championship, the Columbus Bullies brushed off the Kenosha (Wis.) Cardinals 14 to 0 yesterday to boost their loop victories to eight straight against one loss.

* * *

The nearest rival was Chicago with four victories and two defeats. Los Angeles is in third place with two victories and one defeat.

In the only other game yesterday, the St. Louis Gunners crushed Louisville 34 to 7.

HIGH SCHOOL RESULTS.

Cincinnati Xavier 6, Cincinnati Elder 0.

Cincinnati Roger Bacon 13, Cincinnati Purcell 0.

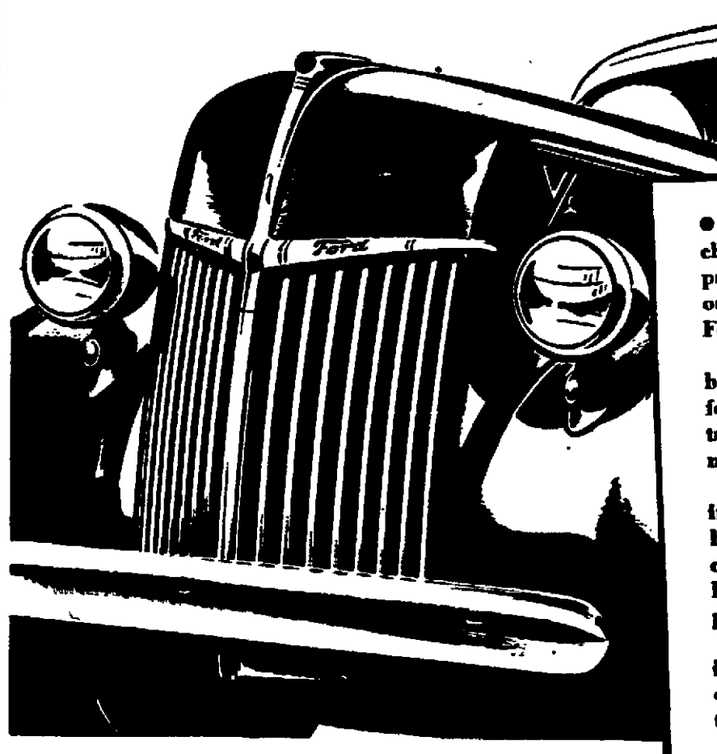
ONE TRUCK STANDS OUT IN 1940



FORD V-8 TRUCKS AND COMMERCIAL CARS

• Look over the 1940 trucks. Compare them, chassis for chassis . . . feature for feature . . . price for price. You will find one that is an outstanding truck for the money. It's the Ford V-8!

The Ford Truck is priced with the lowest, but ranks with the best in quality. Many Ford features are found only in the most expensive trucks. They're put in the Ford Truck to make it more durable, more dependable.

The 1940 Ford Truck line is the broadest in Ford history. There are six wheelbases, 12 body and chassis types, and three V-type eight-cylinder engines — 95, 85 and 60 hp. The Ford Truck line now answers well over 95 per cent of all hauling and delivery needs.

And just as the Ford Truck excels in quality, it offers an economy proved by billions of miles of payload performance. It is built to do more work, in less time, at lower cost.

See these new Ford Trucks at your Ford dealer's and arrange for an actual "on-the-job" test. Prove to yourself — on your own job — the difference Ford quality and Ford economy make before you spend another truck dollar.

1940 FORD TRUCK FEATURES

New modern styling • New chassis design • Increased accessibility • Fan on crankshaft • Larger, heavier front axle • Improved cab construction • Cowl mounted windshield wipers • Mattress-type seat cushion springs • Stitte-guide speedometer • Battery Condition Indicator • New Sealed-Beam Headlamps • Bigger batteries, larger generators with automatic voltage regulation • Dual wheel to accommodate tires up to 8.25 optional at extra cost

COOKING SCHOOL OPENS TUESDAY

Tasty Meat Dishes First on Instruction List of Four Morning Sessions.

Miss Chambers' recipe for apple pie that is made with a bran crust.

Each day she will give a special menu, and tomorrow's will be a 30-minute menu. Each day's menus, printed in small booklets, will be presented to every person attending the school sessions.

The second day's school, on Wednesday, will be a program based on the theme, "New Quirks In Home Work," and will be designed to aid women who have many outside activities. It will include several one-meal dishes There also will be a "quiz" contest, with prizes, on Wednesday.

Another contest is scheduled for Thursday, and the program will be for the woman who has to watch her calories. Low-calory dishes will be demonstrated with suggestions—printed in the booklet—for reducing menus.

Meals and dishes for special occasion will be featured on the closing day.

During the four sessions, special attention will be given to the important subject of meat cookery and roasts, stews, steaks, chops and meat left-overs but all the foods that go to make up a well balanced diet will be included. You'll find delicious cakes, cookies and pies, and many other desserts including the frozen variety, soups, salads, fruits, vegetables and hot breads, all of which will be given attention.

The Mansfield merchants and the national concerns that are contributing to the cooking school are: Nickels bakery, Brownell's shoe store, Weaver's Home Supply, Kobackers', Inc., The Beauty Center, W. E. Jones Furniture & Piano House, Firestone Auto Supply, Ohio Public Service Co., Scattergood & Son, Co., Rogers & Company, Tracy & Avery Co., The Martin Hardware Co, Isaly Dairy Company, Kafer's Flowers, Buehler's Market.

Hering's Quality Market, Widders & Sons, Constance Fine Food Market, Guiher's Grocery, Slough, Locke & Powell, Insurance Agency, Fruit Dispatch Co., Kellogg Sales Co., The Borden Co., Leaver Bros. Company, Clorox Chemical Co., LaChoy Products Co., and Crescent Manufacturing Co.

THROUGH WAR ZONE.

COLUMBIA, S. C. —(U.P.)—S. J. Ashby, gardener of the statehouse lawn on capitol hill, is over his case of jitters caused by the European war. He has received word that his order of 3,000 tulip bulbs has arrived safely in New York from Holland. In Ashby's opinion, the bulbs would have been a fit prize for any submarine.

VEHICLES SAFE

SAN FRANCISCO —(U.P.)— In the past seven years of state supervision of school bus operation, not one child has been killed in bus accidents. The state took over the job in 1932, and approximately 250,000 children are now transported daily.

CIGARETTES PROFIT KANSAS.

TOPEKO, Kas. —(U.P.)—Kansas, the state where cigarettes were once illegal, now collects an average of $130,000 a month taxes on them.

JOIN THE CROWD TO BEAT HUNTER!

In our campaign to BEAT HUNTER we gave you facts to prove that he has broken his 1937 pledge of HONESTY-EFFICIENCY-LOWER GAS-STAND FOR THE PEOPLE-FRIEND OF LABOR. In his present campaign he, personally, promises only efficiency and economy. What about honesty and the rest?

In the News-Journal of last Saturday (Page 6) WE GAVE YOU RECORDED FACTS of his conduct FOR THE PAST 21 MONTHS (read it again), and to this writing HE DID NOT PUBLICLY DENY ONE SINGLE FACT, BECAUSE YOU CAN CHECK AND PROVE THEM TRUE.

During his entire administration no decision on anything was immediately forthcoming. WHOM DID HE ASK WHILE YOU WAITED FOR AN ANSWER?

As Mayor, FOR WHOM DOES HE WORK? YOU, WHO ELECTED HIM, or the CHAMBER OF COMMERCE, or MANUFACTURERS CLUB? Or someone else behind the scene?

TUESDAY, NOV. 7, IS YOUR CHANCE TO FORGET HIM.

BEAT HUNTER AND BEAT HIM BAD, AS AN EXAMPLE TO OTHERS NOT TO FORGET YOU AFTER ELECTION, AND YOU WILL CREATE SOME RESPECT FOR YOURSELF.

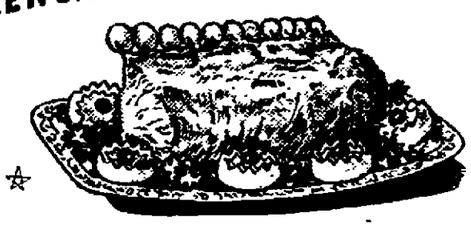
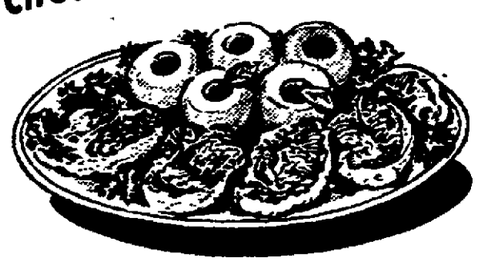
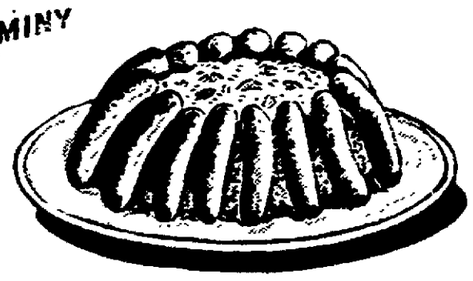
FRENCHED PORK LOIN



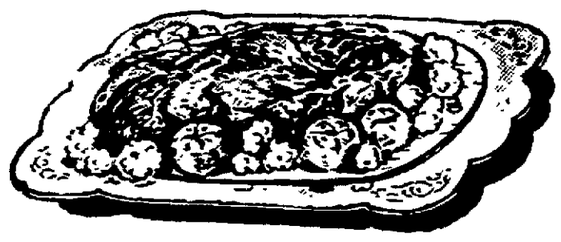
LAMB CHOP GRILL



SAUSAGE HOMINY OMELET



PLANKED PORTERHOUSE



• EVERY SESSION different, and the only way you can receive a complete set of cooking school recipes is to get each day's booklet in person! So come every day.

• MEAT COOKERY featured at Pageant of Foods Cooking School. Complete instructions are given on how to roast, broil, braise and cook meat in water.

• MEAL PLANNING Help. The recipes and practical suggestions at Pageant of Foods will provide new material to aid you in planning interesting meals for your family for months to come.

• VALUABLE PRIZES will be awarded daily. To add to the excitement of the event, the dishes prepared by the lecturer will be given away as prizes each day.

Those beautiful dishes you see in pictures are NOT hard for the average housewife to duplicate. At this big cooking school, after each delicious recipe is prepared, the lecturer will show just how the dish should be served to assure the most appetizing appearance. Before a big mirror, under brilliant spotlights, every perfect dish comes forth to make its bow . . . a feast for the eyes as well as a treat for the appetite. For Pageant of Foods Cooking School makes a special point of attractive garnishing and proper serving. And the best part of it is, each woman in the audience will receive a printed recipe booklet telling just how she can make the cooking school dishes in her own home, to win the praise of her family and friends!

MISS RUTH CHAMBERS
chosen as the lecturer of this big Cooking School, has an enviable collection of recipes which she will share with those attending. A member of the staff of the National Live Stock and Meat Board, she is an expert on problems of Meat Cookery.

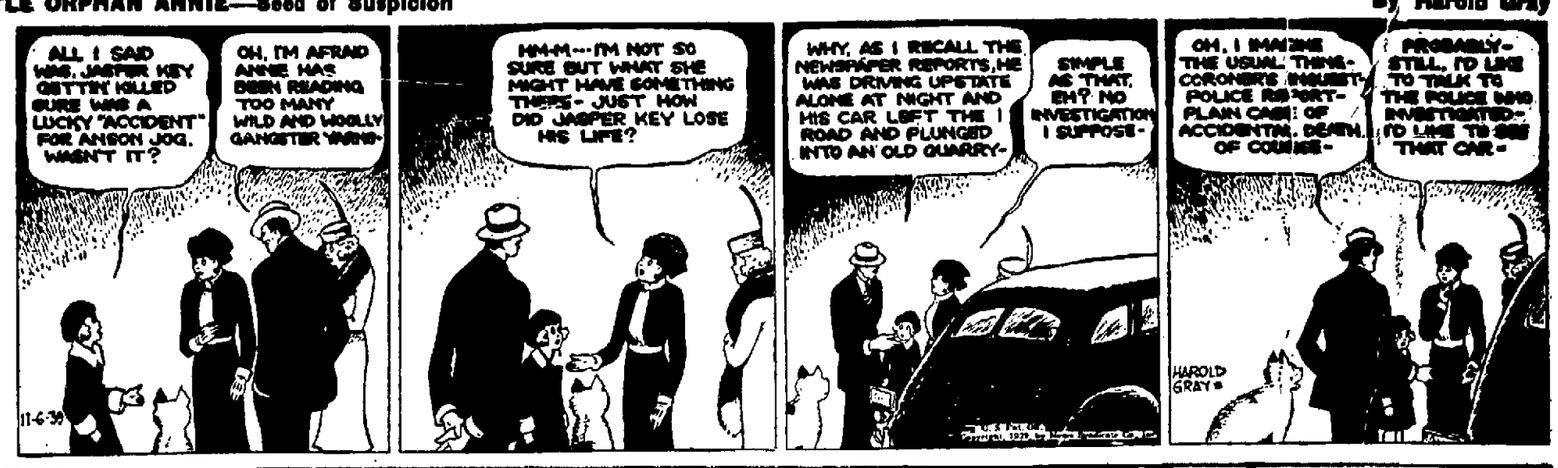
LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE—Seed of Suspicion By Harold Gray



ALL I SAID WAS, JASPER KEY GETTIN' KILLED SURE WAS A LUCKY "ACCIDENT" FOR ANSON JOG, WASN'T IT?
OH, I'M AFRAID ANNIE HAS BEEN READING TOO MANY WILD AND WOOLLY GANGSTER YARNS-
HM-M--- I'M NOT SO SURE BUT WHAT SHE MIGHT HAVE SOMETHING THERE- JUST HOW DID JASPER KEY LOSE HIS LIFE?
WHY, AS I RECALL THE NEWSPAPER REPORTS, HE WAS DRIVING UPSTATE ALONE AT NIGHT AND HIS CAR LEFT THE ROAD AND PLUNGED INTO AN OLD QUARRY-
SIMPLE AS THAT, EH? NO INVESTIGATION I SUPPOSE-
OH, I IMAGINE THE USUAL THING- CORONER'S INQUEST- POLICE REPORT- PLAIN CASE OF ACCIDENTAL DEATH, OF COURSE-
PROBABLY- STILL, I'D LIKE TO TALK TO THE POLICE WHO INVESTIGATED- I'D LIKE TO SEE THAT CAR-

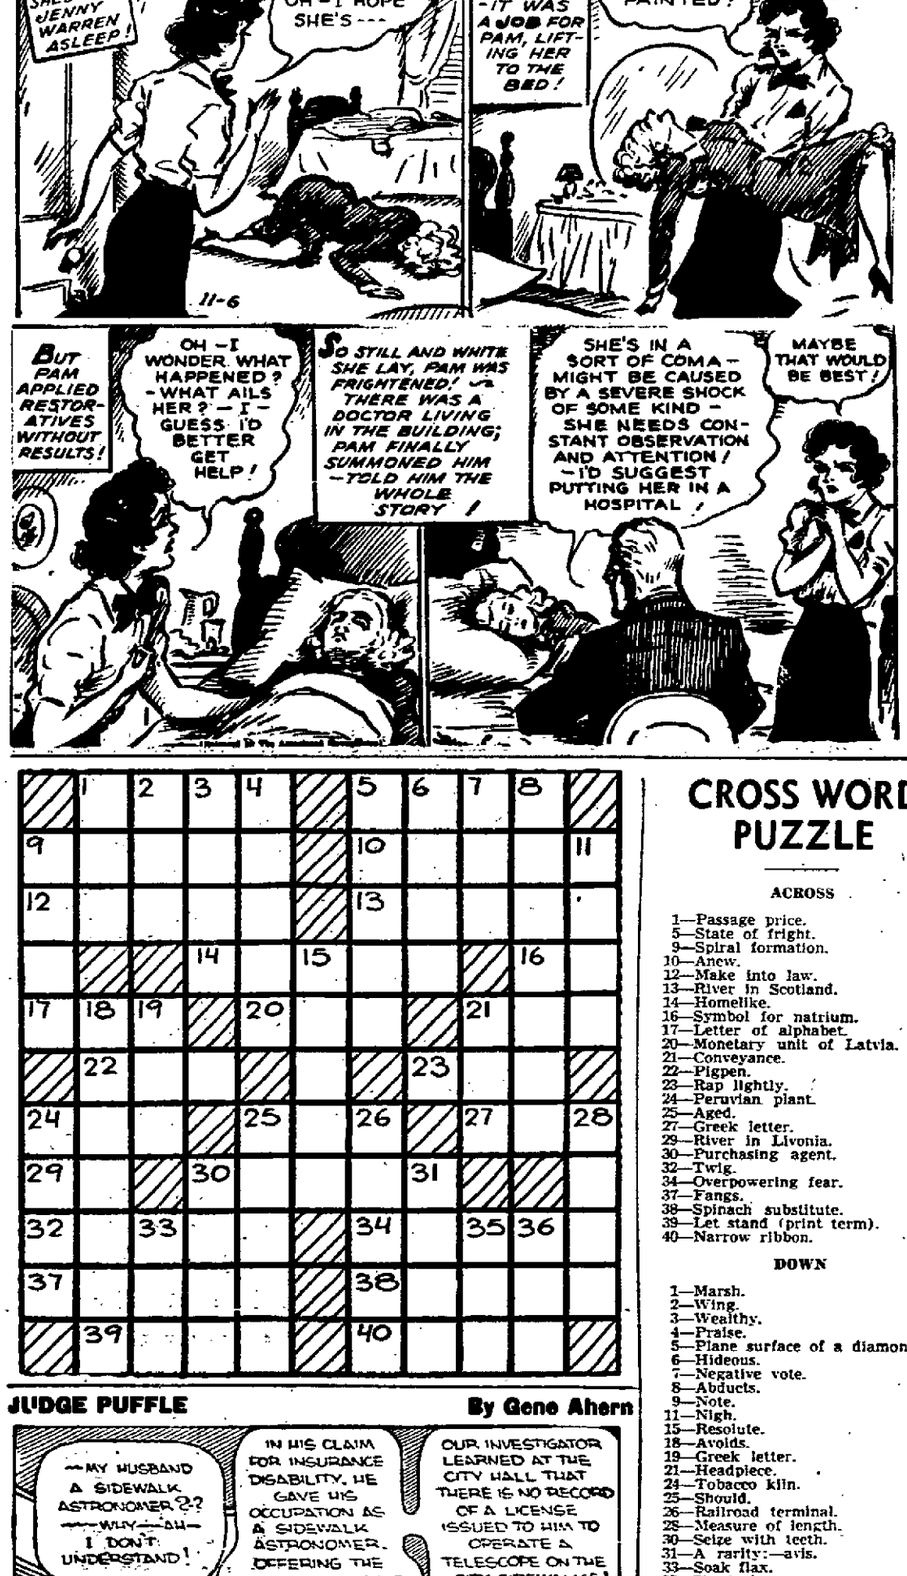
PAM— Coma! By A. W. Brewerton



PAM DASHED INTO THE ROOM WHERE SHE'D LEFT JENNY WARREN ASLEEP!
OH! -!? JENNY! WHAT HAPPENED? OH - I HOPE SHE'S ---
SHE WAS ALIVE, ALL RIGHT, BUT UNCONSCIOUS - IT WAS A JOB FOR PAM, LIFTING HER TO THE BED!
SHE'S BREATHING - AND - I DON'T THINK SHE'S - INJURED IN ANY WAY - I - GUESS SHE JUST FAINTED!
11-6
BUT PAM APPLIED RESTORATIVES WITHOUT RESULTS!
OH - I WONDER WHAT HAPPENED? - WHAT AILS HER? - I - GUESS I'D BETTER GET HELP!
SO STILL AND WHITE SHE LAY, PAM WAS FRIGHTENED! - THERE WAS A DOCTOR LIVING IN THE BUILDING; PAM FINALLY SUMMONED HIM - TOLD HIM THE WHOLE STORY!
SHE'S IN A SORT OF COMA - MIGHT BE CAUSED BY A SEVERE SHOCK OF SOME KIND - SHE NEEDS CONSTANT OBSERVATION AND ATTENTION! - I'D SUGGEST PUTTING HER IN A HOSPITAL!
MAYBE THAT WOULD BE BEST!

THE NEBBS— Eavesdropping By Sol Hess

I'VE BEEN THINKING ABOUT THE WAY THIS IVAN EMBERT DASHED INTO MY OFFICE THE OTHER DAY--HE'LL BEAR WATCHING - IT SEEMS THAT A LOT OF THINGS CREEP INTO MY LIFE THAT I'M NOT ENTITLED TO
THERE HE IS NOW SNEAKING INTO THE DINING ROOM - I DONT KNOW IF HE'S PRACTICING SNEAKING OR IF IT'S JUST A HABIT WITH HIM - I'LL GET A PASS KEY AND HAVE A LOOK AT HIS ROOM WHILE HE'S EATING --- QUIVERING JELLY! WHAT'S HE COOKING UP HERE? OF ALL THE PLACES IN THE WORLD, THAT GUY HAD TO PICK MY HOTEL FOR THIS - I'LL NIP THIS MYSTERY IN THE BUD BEFORE IT GROWS UP TO BE A CALAMITY!!

THE GUMPS— The Voice of Labor By Gus Edson

UNCLE BIM IS THE KINDEST HEARTED MAN IN THE WORLD-HE HAS OFFERED TO USE HIS MONEY AND INFLUENCE TO BRING IL'SA'S BABY HERE—
THAT'S MIGHTY BIG OF YOU, BIM
NONSENSE-NO ONE WHO DARES TO CALL HIMSELF A HUMAN BEING WOULD DO OTHERWISE
I DESERVE NO CREDIT FOR LENDING A HELPING HAND TO THAT POOR, UNFORTUNATE CHILD- I AM IN NO WAY SUPERIOR TO MY FELLOW MAN- JUST A LITTLE MORE FORTUNATE, THAT'S ALL—
GIVEN TO SOME ARE ONLY THE SWEAT AND THE TOIL -AND TO OTHERS THE SMELL OF THE BLOSSOM, THE SHADE OF THE LEAF AND THE TASTE OF THE FRUIT-
SPOKEN LIKE A TRUE GUMP, BIM- AND I MIGHT ADD THAT WHEN THE LITTLE BABY ARRIVES, IT WILL FIND AN EXTRA LARGE WELCOME MAT ON ANDY GUMP'S DOORMAT!
YOU'D THINK THEY'D CONSULT ME ABOUT BRINGING THAT BABY HERE! I'M THE ONE THAT WILL HAVE TO COOK ITS FOOD AND BREAK MY BACK LAUNDERING ACRES OF THREE-CORNERED PANTS, WHILE THEY DO NOTHING BUT TAKE TH' BOWS!

MARKET LIST DOWN IN DULL TRADING TODAY

Irregularity in Exchange Seen Due to Desire to Clear Decks for Holiday.

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK—Leading stocks, including the recently buoyant aircrafts, retreated a pace or two in today's market.

Dealings were slow, compared with Saturday's boiling session, and losers of fractions to around two points were in the majority near the second hour.

Continuing irregularity was attributed by brokers to the desire of some customers to clear decks for tomorrow's election holiday when markets will be closed.

Financial quarters noted the survey of the magazine "Steel" which said the effect of the arms embargo repeal on steel demand was still somewhat indefinite although potential export business has figured in constantly increasing activities in mill centers.

The publication was in doubt as to how much current shipments were being used to build up inventories, but added that "strictly speculation tonnage bought in anticipation of higher prices and without indicated need for the material is regarded as small."

The review found the delay in announcing first quarter steel prices bolstered the belief advances would be "neither sweeping nor large."

How To Relieve Bronchitis

Bronchitis, acute or chronic, is an inflammatory condition of the mucous membranes lining the bronchial tubes. Creomulsion goes right to the seat of the trouble to loosen germ laden phlegm, increase secretion and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. Tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding that you are to like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back.

GIVES PICTURE OF LIFE IN NAZI PRISON CAMP

Missionary Describes Life in Germany, Palestine in Talk at Galion Church.

GALION—Rev. Ralph E. Baney, author-lecturer, world traveler and missionary in the Holy Land, described life in Nazi Germany, and told stories of the Holy Land when he appeared as guest speaker Sunday morning at the First Baptist church.

Rev. Baney spent four years in Palestine and took a year's leave to visit Germany. He touched briefly upon his experiences in Germany when he was placed in confinement with Jewish residents with whom he had associated. He also told of his expériences when he was forced to leave Germany.

The speaker told of his hobby of taking pictures and how he developed them and concealed them in the lining of his sleeping bag to bring them out of Germany. He took many of his pictures by concealing his camera in his right hand pocket and manipulating it through a small hole in his coat.

Unique colored pictures of conditions and people in the Holy Land illustrated his lecture.

AN APPRECIATION

I take this opportunity to thank the many voters in Mansfield for the honors you have conferred on me during the past eight years, and finally electing me to the highest position possible for our citizens to give to any one, viz the office of Mayor or Chief Executive of our city.

I have greatly appreciated this honor and have treated it as a most sacred trust. For the past two years I have given all my time, energy and ability to this position, and have striven to the utmost to give this city an Honest, Efficient and Economical Administration.

I have enjoyed the confidence and cooperation of all civic organizations, social clubs and groups of varied interests and have reciprocated to the best of my talent and ability.

On the eve of this election I have no other promise to give you than that which you have already received. I am for the best interests of Mansfield.

Your Humble Servant,
CLAUDE M. HUNTER.

(Political Adv.)

To the Voters of Mansfield and Madison Township

We submit to the people of Mansfield and Madison Township

GEORGE H. BLECKER

for

MUNICIPAL JUDGE

Mr. Blecker has always lived in the City of Mansfield and has been engaged here in the practice of law for the past twenty-three years. The skillful manner in which he conducted the Prosecuting Attorney's office between the years 1925 and 1929 brought him state wide recognition.

Mr. Blecker is married, is a member of St. Luke's Lutheran church, American Legion and various other civic and fraternal organizations.

We believe that Mr. Blecker, because of his age, ability, training, experience and temperament will make a fearless and impartial judge of the Municipal Court of this city.

Respectfully,
Blecker For Judge Committee

ity, Dresden, Germany, he came to the United States in 1913.

Born in Norway Jan. 12, 1884, he was a member of Mansfield lodge B. P. O. E. and the First Congregational church.

Besides his wife Martha he is survived by one daughter, Anna Lois; one son, William, all at home, two brothers, Erasmus, New Rochelle, N. Y., and Erling, Bridgeport, Conn., and another and two sisters in Norway.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Wednesday at Finefrock's funeral home with Rev. Peter Young pastor of the First Congregational church officiating. Burial will be in Mansfield cemetery.

In another accident, on route 60 near New London Saturday night, Miss Laura Harris, 20, of Brighton, was fatally injured when the car in which she was riding with her father, Clarence Harris, collided head-on with a machine driven by Guy Carris, 47, of New London.

Miss Harris died in the New London hospital yesterday afternoon. Both Harris and Carris are still in the hospital. Their condition was reported as "good" today.

Donald Scott, 22, Mansfield R. F. D. 1, was in city hospital at Bucyrus with scalp and body lacerations sustained when his car left the road and cracked up shortly after midnight Saturday. Franklin Sonday who was riding with him suffered only minor injuries. The car failed to negotiate a curve at the intersection of Routes 19 and 100.

14 Others Killed.

Death in accidents came to 14 other persons in Ohio, including five small children, but missed 95 passengers on a crack train perilously derailed above a steep embankment near Cadiz.

Three children burned to death at Youngstown, two infants suffocated near Newark and the father of three others was killed in a junkyard derby near Newark.

An explosion of medicated tallow, left on a stove, was believed responsible for a fire which started in the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Waites at Youngstown, fatally burning three of their children, Annette, 4; Arthur jr., 18 months, and Gloria, 6 months. The parents rescued Raymond, 3, another son. The tallow was being prepared to treat Arthur, who was ill.

Anna Marie, the 4-month-old baby of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Young of Alexandria near Newark, was suffocated while sleeping between the parents Saturday night.

Mrs. Emmit Mummy, wife of a Newark laborer, awakened yesterday morning to find Emily, her two-week-old baby, dead of suffocation in bed by the mother's side.

Pearley Raymonds, 28, of Homer, O., father of three children, was driving his racer on the last lap of a junkyard derby east of Newark when the car struck a bump. The impact threw Raymonds from the car, killink him.

auditor, treasurer, solicitor, nine councilmen, a Madison township trustee and clerk, and two board of education members.

Voters will ballot on continuance of a three-mill operating levy for schools and a two-tenths of mill levy for development of the city's park and recreation system.

Election supplies—ballots, pencils, and tabulation sheets and books — were being distributed today to election workers in the county's 90 precincts. Precinct officials were instructed to count the ballots on the four state issues first and telephone the results to the board of elections as early as possible.

The early count is expected to make the results of the statewide vote available by midnight tomorrow.

POUND HOLE IN PRISON, ESCAPE

8 Federal Prisoners Flee Virginia Jail; Make Rope of Blankets.

RICHMOND, Va.—(AP)— State and city F. B. I. agents combed the highways of Virginia and adjoining states today for eight federal prisoners who pounded a hole through the wall of Henrico county jail last night and slid to freedow down a "rope" fashioned from blankets.

Seven of the prisoners were among 15 who escaped from a department of justice bus near Fredericksburg last July while being taken from the federal penitentiary in Atlanta to Lewisburg, Pa. They were recaptured recently and brought here for trial in federal court Wednesday.

Chicago Baby Pays Own Expenses Minute He's Born.

CHICAGO —(AP)— The minute Michael Briggs was born Saturday night he earned for his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Briggs, the price of their hospital and doctor bills.

It's because the hospital where he arrived offered those services free to parents of the 30,000th baby born there. Michael, as No. 30,000, was born less than two hours after No. 29,999.

How Burglars Got Into Store

—News-Journal Photos.

Burglars who cut a hole through the roof of the Sears, Roebuck and company store on West Third street sometime over the week-end, obtained an estimated $300 in merchandise. Police Chief Meade K. Bates (left) and Identification Officer E. C. Fuller are shown looking at the burglar's means of entrance to the building.

given a quota of 10,000 members—as a minimum—by national headquarters of American Red Cross. The present membership is 9,600.

Chairman Birch said today that there were two reasons for the increase in the quota; the increase in county services during the past year and the present international emergency which already has made heavy demands upon the American Red Cross.

At the Roll Call dinner there will be a panel discussion on the topic of "How To Reach Our Quota." Leaders in the panel will be Mrs. Paul Cropper, Mrs M L Smith, both of Mansfield; L. N. Hoffman and Gerald Dennis, of Shelby; Mrs. Wayne P. Hodges, Sharon township; and Mrs. S. W. Zackman, Franklin township.

Birch will preside and there will be brief talks by Roy R. Spetka, chapter chairman, Rev. Hayes M. Braker and John Finefrock, both members of the county board.

Cards for the dinner were sent out Saturday and reservations are to be made at Red Cross headquarters, Canal 1494. Headquarters for the Roll Call however, have been established in room 601 Farmers Bank building.

CUT ROOF, GET LOOT AT STORE

cut through the steel mesh and plaster of a stock room.

A step ladder was brought from the basement and placed at the entrance to remove the merchandise which police believed was lowered over the side of the building to accomplices who loaded it into a car parked either on Library court at the rear of the store or between the store and the Mansfield public library.

Officers were of the belief that the burglary was the work of experienced thieves and that they had cut the hole in the roof to avoid opening any windows or doors that would set off any possible burglar alarm system.

They said the entire store had been ransacked and the merchandise taken from various departments. The balcony office was undisturbed, Washburn said, and no attempt was made to loot either the safe or any of the files.

The burglary was the second to occur at the store in the past two years. In the fall of 1937, burglars entered the building and hauled away a safe containing several thousand dollars. The burglary has never been solved.

CASH LOANS $20 TO $500 ON THE "FIT-YOUR-BUDGET" PLAN

Read how you can borrow without endorsers and repay in small monthly installments—No credit inquiries of friends or relatives—Prompt, private service

NOW you can apply for a loan on a helpful "fit-your-budget" plan. You borrow without endorsers and repay in monthly installments of the amount that best fits your income. You may repay a small amount each month. Or you may repay in larger installments and thus reduce the cost.

Suppose you need $100 and can conveniently repay $9.46 a month. Twelve such payments will repay your loan in full, including charges. Or if you wish smaller payments, $4.46 per month for 30 months will repay a $100 loan.

Simple to borrow at Household

All you do to get a Household Finance loan is tell us your needs. No credit inquiries are made of friends or relatives. Loans are made on furniture, car or note. Friends or fellow-workers don't have to sign the loan papers with you. You get your loan promptly, privately and without embarrassment.

Choose the plan that fits your budget

Find the amount of cash you need in the first column of the table. Then read across, picking out the monthly payment which fits your budget. See how you may make very small payments if you wish. Or you may pay larger installments and pay up sooner. Note how little your loan costs if you repay in a short time. A loan of $100 repaid in four monthly installments costs only $5.04.

One rate to everyone

Household has only one price—the same rate to all, whether new customers or former borrowers.

In case of sickness or unemployment, Household shows the borrower every consideration. Last year Household foreclosed on only one chattel mortgage for each 10,000 loans—an action taken then only as protection against fraud.

Learn more without obligation

Don't get a loan anywhere until you learn all about Household's "fit-your-budget" plan. Read the table carefully. Then phone or visit us for further information.

This table is based on prompt repayment. You may pay ahead of schedule if you wish. Advance payment reduces the cost of your loan proportionately since you pay charges only for the actual time you have the money. Payments are calculated at Household's rates of 2% per month on loans up to $300 and 6% per year on balances above $300 up to $500. These rates are less than the maximum prescribed by the Small Loan Law. Ohio

"Nothing Causes Indigestion Now," Says Mansfield Lady

Used to suffer terribly from gas, acid risings, nervous indigestion and other troubles due to constipation. Praises "Vendol" for marvelous relief.

"There is hardly anything I eat now that disagrees with my stomach since I took your splendid medicine and got relief from constipation which caused all my troubles,' declared Mrs. Thomas D. Spayde, residing on route 4, Mansfield, to the Vendol Man in Central Drug Store. "It is the finest thing that it has been my good luck to find."

"Before I took Vendol, nearly everything I ate seemed to disagree with me and I hardly knew what it was to eat a meal but that in about two hours my stomach would begin to churn, grumble with gas, and cause a tight, swelled feeling in my stomach. This upset stomach condition brought on headaches, and just made me feel bad all over.

"My sleep was very light, and was broken several times every night, which I know was caused by the need of a diuretic to my kidneys.

"Vendol was so highly recommended for these troubles if due to constipation, that I got some and also a box of Vendol laxative tablets, and I've never had such splendid relief from any medicine. They relieved my constipation thoroughly yet gently, and with that trouble taken care of, I have no more attacks of indigestion or sick headaches. I have a good appetite, and since I'm getting real nourishment from my meals, I have more energy and never feel tired or worn out. I sleep well every night and awaken of mornings feeling rested. Vendol helped me so much that I am glad to advise others what to take if they have had the same troubles I had."

Why delay! Come to Central Drug Store, Cor. Main & Fourth Sts., and give this splendid Root, Herb, and Alkaline medicine a chance to help you, too. Let the Vendol Man explain all about it. There is no charge, so come today. Vendol is sold by leading druggists everywhere.

For More Mildness—Coolness and Flavor

CAMELS

SLOW-BURNING COSTLIER TOBACCOS

Here's luxury and thrift together!

TOBACCO'S temperamental! Its elements of flavor and aroma are delicate...fragile.

And nothing destroys tobacco flavor...nothing turns natural fragrance into tasteless discomfort like...heat!

Fast-burning cigarettes can't yield either comfort or delicate taste. They taste...well, like anything but a good cigarette.

Camel's slow-burning, costlier tobaccos give you the luxury of milder, cooler, more fragrant and flavorous smoking.

And that luxury not only doesn't cost you more...it costs you less! Simple arithmetic shows you how slow burning also gives you the equivalent of 5 extra smokes per pack! (See panel at right.)

SMOKERS: SAVE THE COST OF THE STATE CIGARETTE TAX

Smokers who live in communities where certain state cigarette taxes are in effect can save the cost of the tax—and, in some instances, more—through smoking Camels. (See above, right.) When you are a Camel smoker, you get this unique economy—and all the extra enjoyment of cooler, milder smoking—the fragrance and delicate taste of finer, more costly tobaccos.

CAMEL
SMOKER QUALITY
FAST BURNING
—creates hot flat taste in smoke... ruins delicate flavor, aroma...
SLOW BURNING
—protects natural qualities that produce mildness, thrilling taste, fragrance... a cooler smoke...

A prominent scientific laboratory recently made impartial tests on 16 of the largest-selling cigarette brands. They found that CAMELS BURNED SLOWER THAN ANY OTHER BRAND TESTED—25% SLOWER THAN THE AVERAGE TIME OF THE 15 OTHER OF THE LARGEST-SELLING BRANDS! By burning 25% slower, on the average, Camels give smokers the equivalent of MANSFIELD, OHIO, MONDAY, NOVEMBER 6, 1939.

If panhandlers made the laws there would be no laws against panhandling.

A scientist, after careful study, concludes that caterpillars have no sense—but why pick on caterpillars?

"Shut your ears to rumors," advises Will Irwin—and if some of the rumor-mongering mouths could also be shut the improvement would be marked.

Tomorrow Is the Day to Vote

ANOTHER campaign has come to an end and all that remains is for voters to go to the polls tomorrow and express their preference as to candidates and their decisions on the half dozen state and local issues being presented.

It needs no restatement that today is too late to inject any new arguments, or charges, into the campaign. It may be assumed that whatever need be said for or against candidates and issues has already been said, and that any statements made today or tonight will be confined to reiteration rather than introduction of new material

From now on—and through to the time for closing the polls tomorrow evening—concentration of interest should be in GETTING OUT THE VOTE.

Election of city officials may well be regarded as of sufficient importance to induce every qualified voter to take time to go to the polls tomorrow—but of paramount concern, insofar as the future of Ohio, and every person in this state is concerned, is requirement for a large total vote in order to assure the overwhelming defeat of the Bigelow pension proposal, as well as the second dangerous amendment sponsored by the Cincinnati preacher.

Should, by any chance, a lethargic electorate permit the outcome of these fantastic issues to be close, Bigelow and other promoters of crackpot schemes would be encouraged to continue to harass voters at every election, as is now being experienced in unhappy California, where voters will again tomorrow cope with the nutty notion of "$30 Every Thursday" for everybody over 50.

Vote tomorrow—and help get out the vote of others who might neglect this duty of citizenship. An exceptionally large "off year" vote is predicted over the state. The people of Mansfield and Richland county should do their share in making it so.

Agreement Should Be Reached

FINAL opportunity is being given Richland county commissioners by the state highway department to co-operate in eliminating the two railroad grade crossings on 30-North (West Fourth street road) by providing $50,000 as the county's share in carrying through a $600,000 project.

Spread of payment of the required $50,000 would be over a three-year period, under the new proposal made by the state highway department to the board of commissioners, and a conference has been asked, in order that all phases of the situation can be discussed, with a view to reaching an agreement.

The city of Mansfield has already agreed to meet costs in connection with the proposed overhead crossing of the B. & O. tracks on West Fourth street, but it is essential from an economy standpoint, that both the overhead and the Erie underpass, further to the west, be carried through as one project.

As a part of the Lincoln highway between east to west coasts, 30-North is an important national and state route, and elimination of these two grade crossings comes naturally under the classification in which state and federal funds should be allocated to aid counties and cities in abolishing traffic hazards.

While the county commissioners are to be commended for their careful guarding of expenditures of public money, it does appear that this is an instance in which a county investment of $50,000, spread over three years, in securing an essential improvement which, among other things, will be effective in increasing land and property values in a large area to the west of Mansfield, is fully justified and would meet with quite general public approval.

It may be hoped that, as an outcome of further consideration and conference, some agreement can be reached which will assure carrying through these projects—which, if not done now will have to be done some time later, at probably considerably greater cost to Richland county taxpayers.

Naziism and Liberalism

THE dignified Manchester Guardian of England makes this interesting analysis. Hitlerism, it says, is the national creed that makes force the first essential. Thus "a world under such a power would have lost all that Europe has gained by what we call liberalism, in the best and widest sense of that word."

And what is this liberalism? The Guardian quotes the Spanish philosopher Ortega y Gasset as saying: "Liberalism is the supreme form of generosity it is the right which the majority concedes to minorities, and hence it is the noblest cry that has ever resounded on this planet."

The Guardian continues: "The Nazi system stands in this sense for two primitive prejudices. It stands for the rule of mere force, and it stands for the rule of those German qualities in which the share of Europe is the smallest. What Naziism does with the German is to strip him of all he owes to Europe, to Greek Europe, to Roman Europe, to Christian Europe, and then prepare to make him Europe's master."

This artificial, pagan Germany that the Nazis have tried to establish is far from the Germany that Americans have known and loved. It is not the Germany of the thousands of cultured and gifted German exiles who have fled to Britain and America since Hitler rose to power, and who are now enriching our own life and culture.

Grouped Advertisers

NEWSPAPERS are to be the principal medium for a joint advertising campaign in which bread, cheese and tea interests will co-operate to promote their various products simultaneously. The idea is that these three items in combination will have more appeal than any one of them alone.

If the campaign is a success it may put this nation in the afternoon-tea class, which some Americans consider a good thing.

After the tea, bread and cheese people have shown how effective this kind of advertising may be, what groups will follow? There are endless possibilities for putting new variety to advertising and new profits in many spots.

Watching Trends

—By PRESTON GROVER

WASHINGTON—To the hazards of life in Washington should be added race horse touts and the March of Time.

We will take them up in that order, although that may or may not be the way we feel about them.

Washington has no horse tracks of its own, but not far over the line in Maryland are such spots as Laurel and Havre de Grace where the horses run and the touts ply their trade with skilful additions to their tricks which should be reported.

At Laurel a tout rushes up to whisper something in the ear of Postmaster General Farley but is casually brushed aside and doesn't press his point. On to the next victim he wings his way, and the name of the victim we will hold because he blushes easily.

"Put a piece on Blue Nose," says he, although Blue Nose is not the name of the horse, whose true name we will also withhold because the horse also blushes easily. Our victim is not eager to put a piece on Blue Nose because he thinks he knows the way of touts. But this one has tricks.

The Clincher.

"I JUST come from the stables, see," he says, "and I was out with a couple of jockeys last night. This one is all locked up. I am no bum, fella," he adds, and to prove his point he spreads a roll of bills with a tenner on top.

Nevertheless, our hesitant victim is on the point of turning away when out from behind an automobile sneaks a wiry fellow who says in a half tone that could be heard 40 feet:

"You better get back to the stables," Beezy, you're in trouble about them bandages."

That touch of local color is enough to sack our victim and he passes $4 through the window hesitantly. Blue Nose does not win. That makes no difference to the tout, of course, who probably has pulled this fancy trick to tip off a sucker on every horse in the race. So no matter which comes in he has a claim for a kick-in.

Another Thing—

BUT horses don't trouble us much, and not nearly so early in the morning as the March of Time.

At 7:15 a. m. our telephone cut loose the other morning and sent us galloping downstairs in our pajamas.

"This is Western Union," says a sweet voice, sweet even at 7:15 a. m. "We have a rather long telegram for you."

We have no cows to milk so we are not always up at 7:15 a. m. and when Western Union calls at that hour either a distant relative has left us some money or the office wants us down right away, there is trouble.

"Read the telegram," we tremble at Western Union.

A Few Are Chosen.

"THE American farmer was the bulwark of the Allied armies during the World war," purrs the girl at 7:15 a. m. "Yes, yes," we agree, "go on."

"Now again in 1939 (we are quoting ad lib as we remember it, so the words may differ but the idea is there) the American farmer may be called upon to feed a world at war. The March of Time has prepared a film release on the American farmer—" At this point our tension is down and our dander up because 15 minutes more of sleep were rightfully ours before we needed to consider the American farmer feeding the world.

But it develops, via the sweet voice, that the March of Time is giving a preview of its new release to a few selected souls in the department of agriculture auditorium. At 7:15 a. m. We have been selected as one of those to see and hear it.

And because we are a diligent soul, even at 7:15 a. m. while shy 15 minutes of rightful sleep, we take down a telephone number where we are to call for a formal invitation.

And we went.

Looking Back

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Thursday, Nov. 6, 1919.

Judge Edwin Mansfield went to Battle Creek, Mich., to remain for several weeks treatment.

Miss Mildred Clinton and Max C. Williams were married by Rev. R. E. Tulloss.

Hiram W. Hildebrant, 75, well known Shelby banker, died.

Birthday party was given for little Donna Elaine Wierman at her home on West Third street.

Newton DeWeese moved from Clairmont avenue into new home at 493 West Fourth street.

Charles F. Ackerman, Albert I. Davey, Fred Brister and Vernon Redding left for Wisconsin on a hunting trip.

FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY

Tuesday, Nov. 6, 1934.

Senator-elect Vic Donahey's majority of 356,537 over Simeon D. Fess, his Republican opponent, was most overwhelming victory ever scored by a candidate for an Ohio office.

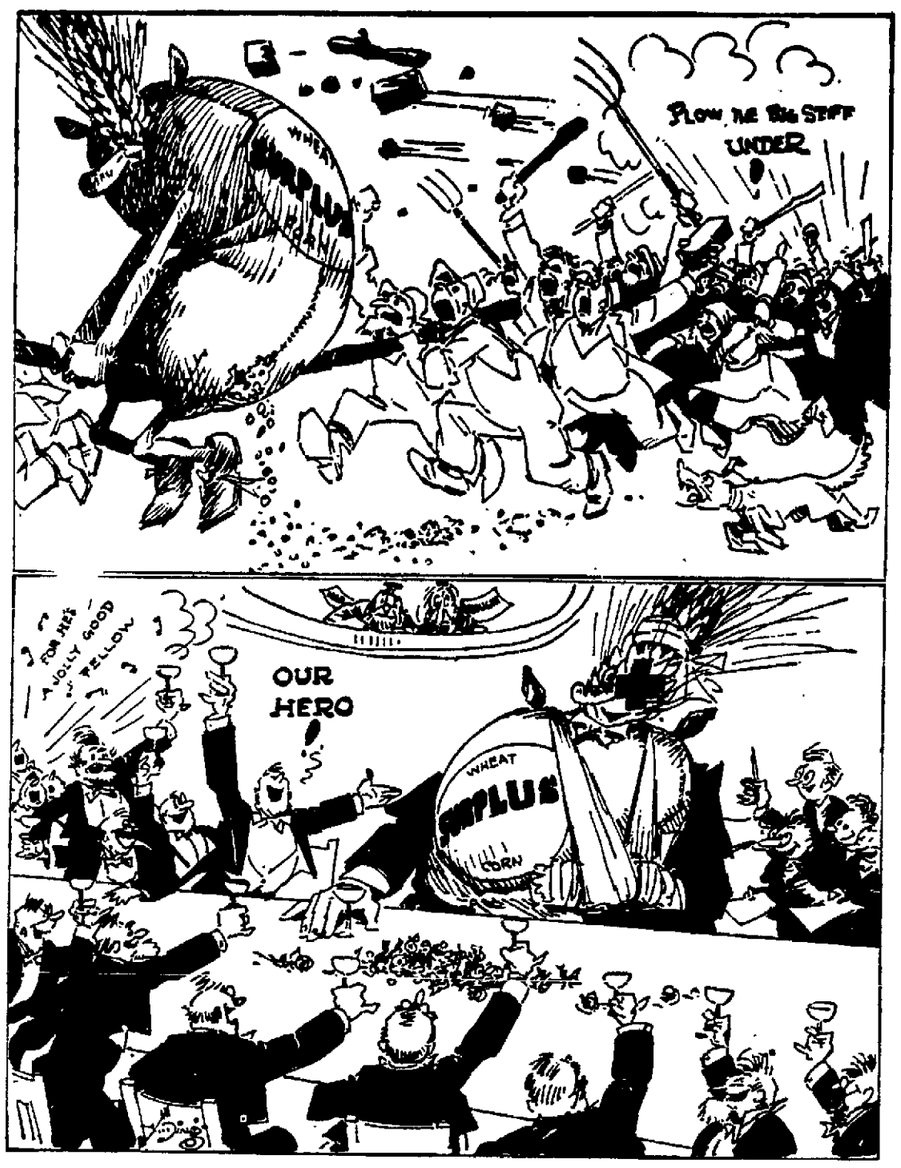
Daughter, Cynthia May, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Albert H. Laubscher.

State Senator Philip Wolfe and county coroner, Dr. Hugh C. Winbigler, were the only Republicans elected to office in Richland county.

Mrs. J. A. Picking, 92 Johns avenue, received minor cuts and bruises when she walked into the side of an automobile.

A large number of Mansfield clubs and lodges held election parties.

YESTERDAY'S MENACE TODAY'S GUEST OF HONOR



Listen, World!

Is It Right "If It Doesn't Hurt Anyone Else?"

—By ELSIE ROBINSON

I KNOW of no poorer test of the goodness of an act than the old axiom—"It's all right if it doesn't hurt anyone else." More fine lives, I suspect, have been wasted or wrecked by that theory than by any other device of the devil.

I'm thinking of poor Alma Winters as I write. Alma's edging fifty now—a pathetic, withered husk of a woman. For thirty years she waited to marry Fred Stone—and didn't, because of Poor Mama. There was nothing really against Fred, but Alma was a firm believer in the "mustn't - hurt-the-other - fellow" test. Obviously, if marrying Fred DID hurt someone else there must be something wrong about it.

And Mama made it extremely plain that said marriage would hurt HER. So Alma waited, wondering a little at God's inscrutable rulings, but sure that in the end virtue would be rewarded.

Last year, a month before Poor Mama died, Fred up and married his red-headed stenographer. Now Alma's all alone—bewildered and bitter. How COULD God cheat her so, after all she'd done? What's the use of Being Good and Doing Your Duty if that's your reward?

God, of course, didn't cheat Alma. She cheated herself by her own needless sacrifice. God neither demands nor appreciates such sacrifices. He gives life, and expects His children to use that good gift joyfully, proudly and usefully. If they don't that's their own fault—and they'll have to take the consequences.

"But it would have hurt Poor Mama?"

It would—but that was Poor Mama's bad luck. If Mama, by her own selfishness, put herself in a position where she would be hurt by the normal processes of life, then she deserved to be. And Alma was neither devoted nor dutiful in shielding Mama from that hurt. Alma should have married her Fred and given Mama the works. Which would, undoubtedly, have been extremely good for what ailed her.

It all seems so clear as you read it, doesn't it? And yet how often have you yourself floundered in just such a trap? And how many lives do you know that are thus hopelessly involved—not daring to make changes or run risks because of some selfish, stupid, sentimental obstructionist who "might be hurt?"

The simple truth is that it is IMPOSSIBLE to take any brave step without hurting SOMEONE. We are all cowardly by nature, and we have devised a social order designed to protect cowards.

ALL STALWART THINKERS ENDANGER THAT ORDER . . . ALL DOUBTERS . . . ALL EXPERIMENTERS . . . ALL ADVENTURERS OR REBELS. Yet it is manifestly impossible for life to proceed without experiments, adventures and rebellions. So what?

So somebody's bound to be stepped on. And yell. Then proceed to alibi the yell with some blooey bit of sentimentality. But should you let that matter? Or should you say—"I'll stand by you and consider your feelings as long as you are willing to live as bravely, honestly and decently as I wish to live. But when you try to block my action simply because you're too lazy, stupid, timid or selfish to play the game—WE SPLIT. And you'll have only yourself to thank."

Nor is it always THE OTHER FELLOW who's apt to be hurt by a lively life. It's doubtful if you can take a progressive step without giving yourself a beating.

Noble Deeds are swell to contemplate—or boast about when you're old and the wounds are all healed. But they usually raise Cain with your comfort while you're performing them. Personally, I've never yet committed one without feeling afterward as if I'd been through a concrete mixer!

But what of it? That's life. If you want it you've got to pay the price.

Business Against War.

American business has nothing to gain from war. The assumption that warfare brings profits is without basis of fact, says Alfred P. Sloan, jr., chairman of the General Motors Corp. He admits that armed conflict in any part of the world may be expected to stimulate trade temporarily. All ultimately lose, Mr. Sloan points out. "The destruction of wealth can never, in the last analysis, lead to a better order of things," Mr. Sloan says.

This is not theory. It is just plain thinking based upon experience. Virtually every business, large and small, felt the cycle of stimulation, increases, deflation and depression, as the result of the World war.

Business has no more desire for war than the young men of military age, their wives and parents. There can be no profit motive in war for it has no real returns. Idealism and commercialism are agreed. America must keep out of war.—Toledo Blade.

Health And Diet

Disregard of Drinking Problem.

—By DR. CLENDENING

THE three major public health problems in the United States are tuberculosis, venereal disease and alcoholism. The handling of the alcoholism problem has fallen far behind the other two in efficiency. Few doctors are interested and the ideas of treatment are as divergent as the individuals who prescribe it.

The inadequacy of our care of alcoholics who become public wards is shown in the report from a large city hospital, which in the period from 1927 to 1938 reported that nearly a third of all male admissions were alcoholics. Yet, the average period of observation was only one day. No attempt was made to study the patient as an individual or to provide psychologic treatment, which is the basis for any hope of reclamation.

The treatment of delirium tremens is more satisfactory than the treatment of the chronic alcoholic. It used to be thought that delirium tremens was produced by sudden withdrawal, but most physicians who are widely experienced have given that idea up. It is the alcohol that poisons the nervous system and causes delirium tremens. Supplying water and salt, sugar and vitamin B, with hydrotherapy and massage will give complete physical rehabilitation in most cases.

Mental Age of 13.

Study of the mental status of chronic alcoholics showed that 30 per cent of them had a mental age of 13. Most of them had enough education that they had entered high school.

The economic waste from alcoholism in the United States is beyond calculation. Repeal and the opening up of bars to women have increased the waste and put an entirely new aspect on the problem. The number of female admissions is rapidly catching up to the male admissions.

The causes of regular imbibing are set by psychologist as follows:

1. Escape from situations that cannot be faced.
2. Social drinkers who have drifted into the habit.
3. Maladjusted personality.
4. Symptoms of major mental disturbance.
5. To relieve pain.
6. Constitutionally inferior persons who drink because they like it.

Ages of Steady Drinker.

The seven ages of the steady drinker also constitute a horrible example:

1. The stripling. The other boys drink and he doesn't want to appear afraid. Age 20.
2. Sociable fellow. Sure, glad to have a cocktail. Age 24.
3. Regular guy. Occasionally gets a little too much. Age 28. Easy to quit now.
4. Booze artist. Can drink anybody under the table. Age 33.
5. The rummy. Doesn't get any kick out of it, but can't quit. Age 40.
6. The soak. Age 45. At it all the time. No thought of quitting.
7. Just another bum. Age 50. (If his liver hasn't downed him.)

WASHINGTON Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON—Vice President Jack Garner will toss his hat formally in the ring for that 1940 Democratic nomination shortly after he returns to his home in Uvalde this week.

And his announcement either will be preceded or followed by one from Senator Burton K. Wheeler of Montana who also takes the plunge. Wheeler was all set to declare early last month at a rally staged specially for this purpose in his birthplace, Hudson, Mass. But he was stymied by the special session and the truce on politics. He spoke at Hudson, but said nothing about his personal ambitions.

Instead he told Boston reporters that Roosevelt probably would be nominated for a third term.

Since then, however, Wheeler, who privately hates, and is hated by the president, has changed his mind about a third term and is out to take a shot at the nomination. He has not yet decided whether to make his formal announcement before or after Garner's statement, or whether to make it in Washington or Montana.

His henchmen are counselling the latter.

Garner's personal relations with the president never have been more friendly. The Texan went down the line 100 per cent on the neutrality bill and put in some good licks in getting it through the house.

Note:—The vice president's friends say he is against a third term, but insist that his candidacy is not aimed at that.

Both the Garner and Wheeler camps readily concede, however, that if Roosevelt does decide to go after another nomination they couldn't stop him. Unlike Garner, Wheeler has no organization outside of Montana. Garner has an extensive undercover machine and apparently plenty of money to finance it.

Eddie Cantor.

EDDIE CANTOR, America's most unique comedian, and Maury Maverick, America's most unique mayor, tangled recently at San Antonio, Texas. But in Washington Justice Felix Frankfurter of the supreme court paved the way for a rapprochement.

Eddie Cantor went to see the famed new supreme court justice while playing in Washington's Capitol theater and during their conversation Maverick's name was mentioned.

"He's a great fellow," the justice said. "As a matter of fact he believes in the same things you do."

In San Antonio Mayor Maverick had accused Cantor of being opposed to freedom of speech. But in Washington and elsewhere, the famous comedian made some rousing speeches for the U. S. A. Among other things he said:

"I don't think we appreciate our good fortune enough. In the light of what is happening in Europe today and what might happen there tomorrow, honestly we ought to go down on our knees and thank God we are living in America, the land of the free."

Cantor made a great hit by preaching at the First Congregational church in Washington, where he drew a record crowd.

"If I can make one Christian feel more kindly toward the Jews," said Cantor, after the sermon was over, "I shall be glad to preach many times again."

Justice Frankfurter.

JUSTICE JAMES C. McREYNOLDS, 77-year-old reactionary of the supreme court, can be a gadfly in harassing lawyers. During the famous New Deal cases Reynolds lashed government attorneys with a storm of vitriolic questions.

However, during the recent Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation case, when Felix Frankfurter was querying an attorney, McReynolds suddenly emited snorts of disapproval.

The incident occurred during the argument of William D. Whitney, prominent New York lawyer and chief counsel for Bethlehem. Frankfurter interrogated him closely on certain points and for some unexplained reason this seemed to annoy McReynolds. For a while he twisted and squirmed in his seat, obviously irritated. Finally, he apparently could contain himself no longer and leaning over the bench said to Whitney in a loud and heavily accented voice,

"Now, Mr. Whitney, I should like very much to hear YOUR argument."

All the other justices sent startled glances toward McReynolds, but said nothing. Frankfurter smiled quietly and refrained from comment. But after a few minutes, he again returned to his interrogation. This time Justice McReynolds, livid with rage, whirled from his chair and stalked furiously from the chamber, his robes streaming behind him.

Secretary of State.

BEHIND White House Secretary Steve Early's sharp comment on the speech of Soviet Premier Molotov was a very significant inner administration development.

This was the third time in as many weeks that Early acted as the spokesman of the U. S. government on international affairs. (The first was in response to the mysterious Berlin suggestion that the president act as mediator in the European war; second was the equally mysterious incident of the S. S. Iroquois.)

Each of these matters was within the province of the state department and could be expected to be handled by Secretary Hull. But that was not the case. Instead, Early did the talking for the government. And that isn't all.

There was no secrecy surrounding his acting in that role.

There was no White House spokesman stuff. The famed Coolidge eerie has not been resurrected. Steve not only talked on the record but permitted himself to be quoted. Further, he was quite frank in stating that he was voicing official views.

But it is important to note that the president was not directly involved, so if there is a kickback, Early and not Roosevelt takes the rap.

All of which indicates more and more that Roosevelt is his own secretary of state.

Individualistic Cows

(A FARMER'S DIARY)

—By CALVIN A. BYERS

MY FARMER friend had just begun milking as I entered the cow stable. I heard two streams strike heavily upon the bottom of the metal pail. Fainter, and farther away, the muffled sound of milk beating through a deep frothy surface told that another pail was nearly full.

The farmer sat on a one-legged stool, his muscular arm close against the side of the Jersey cow and his sturdy shoulder pressed into her flank. Seven other cows were munching fodder and alfalfa hay. They made a long row, stanchioned side by side, beneath the whitewashed ceiling of the shed. A lantern hung upon the wall, beside a large spring scales and a wall chart with a pencil on a string.

Between the fourth and fifth cows, sat the farmer's wife, milking too, unmindful of my presence. I glimpsed her gingham apron and ruffled cap. My friend looked up and greeted me so heartily that I felt the warmth of welcome, even in his barn.

"That cow is aging just a little," I suggested.

"Yep," he said. "She's had her seventh calf September first in the afternoon. She'll tip the scales with forty pounds of milk today. She never looks as good as them that gives much less. No good milker ever does. But she always has an appetite." Bossy tassed her head and looked around as if she understood.

As he finished, the pail was brimming full and the fleecy froth overflowed on the leaning side. He placed the pail securely on the hook of the scales and I saw the arm move down along the dial to 23. He gave a satisfied nod. He fed four impatient mewing cats which had been waiting, and straightened up to rest.

"Them cows are funny animals," he said. "Did you know each one gives a different flavored milk? I bet if I was blindfolded I could tell by taste just which cow's milk was which. We always use the milk from that young Jersey there. It has a milder taste. Makes better butter too. . . . Of course it's only reasonable," he went on. "Every apple tree has a difference in flavor of the fruit, even of the same variety. Every ear of corn has a slightly different taste. That's what I call individuality. There's plenty of it everywhere upon a farm."

COUNTY'S AUTO SALES DOUBLED

Dealers Report Sale of 164 Cars in October, 78 More Than in September.

Introduction of new automobile models last month was credited with almost doubling the sale of new cars in Richland county in October over the preceding month.

County dealers sold 164 cars in October as compared with 86 in September. In October last year sales totaled 85.

Last month's sales boosted the total to Nov. 1 to 1,703, a 92 per cent increase over figures for the first 10 months of 1938.

The truck business, however, was not so flourishing. Last month, 18 vehicles were sold, four less than the October sales last year, Norman P. Henry, deputy county clerk, reported.

There have been 177 new trucks sold so far this year, a gain of 27, or 18 per cent over the 1938 sales for the same period.

LONDON TAILORS UPSET BY WAR

LONDON —(U.P.)— Some tailors in London and the suburbs were so convinced that there was not going to be a war that they offered to refund the full purchase price of any garment bought on a particular day if this country was involved in war before 1940.

Commenting on this, "Men's Wear" mentions that one of these firms has received 30 claims for payment.

Richland Tax Receipts Gain 44 Per Cent; Ohio Figure at 38 Per Cent.

Richland county's sales tax receipts for the last week of October gained 44 per cent over collections for the same week last year while the increase in the entire state was only 38 per cent, State Treasurer Don H. Ebright had reported today.

Receipts for the week in the county amounted to $11,457. In the corresponding week last year they were $7,913.

Sales tax receipts in the county to Nov. 1 were approximately 23 per cent ahead of last year. Collections for the first 10 months of this year totaled $395,280 against last year's $319,765, an increase of $75,515.

In total receipts, the county was again well ahead of the state which had an increase of only 16 per cent for the first 10 months of this year.

Do You Know?

That over 90% of the people of Mansfield and Madison Township have never been in Municipal Court and therefore have no knowledge of its operation?

Do You Know?

That through the first term of Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch, every case of Careless and Reckless operation of a motor vehicle and in every case of Operating a Motor vehicle while under the influence of alcohol, wherein there is a conviction, the guilty party has been made to pay all damages done to other people's property?

Do You Know?

That from the time Judge Kalbfleisch took office until the present time, there have been 629 convictions for Careless and Reckless driving and 196 convictions for operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated or under the influence of alcohol, making a total of 825 convictions?

Do You Know?

That of the 825 convictions, in 53 cases a portion of the fine was suspended upon payment of damages and in 37 cases jail sentences were suspended on payment of damages. There were 74 cases in which partial fines were suspended, but the driver's rights taken from those convicted?

Do You Know?

That in not a single case has a convicted person been excused without paying a fine and costs?

This Is How It Was Done

Judge Kalbfleisch has fined the guilty party an amount in excess of the amount of damages, whatever it might be in any case, and then suspended that portion of the fine which corresponds with the amount of the damage, upon the condition that the damages are paid. Hundreds of dollars have been collected for the innocent third party by reason of this policy that would not otherwise have been paid. JUDGE KALBFLEISCH BELIEVES THIS POLICY IS A GREAT SERVICE TO THE COMMUNITY. These are FACTS which the records will prove.

Do You Know?

That the total receipts of the Municipal court under Judge Kalbfleisch's first term with two months yet to be received, exceeds the total receipts for the four years immediately preceding his administration, to-wit, in Kalbfleisch's term, less November and December, of 1939, the receipts were $86,382.85 as against the complete four years preceding, the receipts were $83,723.52. Which proves Judge Kalbfleisch's administration has been sound financially as well as in fairness and justice.

During the course of this campaign, a brilliant Mansfield lawyer saw fit to address a letter to the Republican Women's Council and they thought so highly of this letter that they urged me to have it printed here. The letter is as follows:

Nov. 1, 1939

Women of Mansfield:

Permit me to say a word in regard to our candidate for Municipal Judge, G. E. Kalbfleisch.

Mr. Kalbfleisch is a lawyer and a judge and he has lived the professional life of a lawyer and judge. He has been neither a lawyer nor a judge intermittently, but constantly and regularly, not one year off and another year on, not one-third or one-fourth of his time devoted to his profession, but his entire time. There is a continuity in his years, as there is in law itself, there is continuity of his thought, of his character and his conduct. His profession has absorbed the whole man.

I have watched him for more than ten years and frequently complimented the City of Mansfield and the citizens of Mansfield on the fact that we have a professional lawyer and not an intermittent lawyer for the Judge of the Municipal Court. Mr. Kalbfleisch is outstanding for this fact and I am not satisfied unless I impress you with this fact of continuity in his life, in this campaign. I trust you may use this fact to his benefit and to the benefit of the people of the city.

Yours respectfully,
C. H. Workman

These Are FACTS Which the Records Will Prove!

Breakfast Important Meal, Don't Make It Sketchy One

By RUTH CHAMBERS

Do we take breakfasts too casually? In many households this first meal of the day is a hurried, sketchy affair which never gets much attention. The same kind of food appears each morning and there's never any little surprise to make one breakfast different from the rest.

Yet breakfast offers the homemaker a chance to start the day right for her family. After the night's fast, they are in need of nourishing food, even though time may be limited and appetites not very keen.

BREAKFAST MENU

Grapefruit Juice
Canadian Style Bacon and Scrambled Eggs
Toast Marmalade
Coffee

The addition of a meat dish to the breakfast menu requires very little time or effort and many homemakers have found it well worth while in stimulating appetites and in providing that extra nourishment members of their families need before the activities of the day begin.

The tempting fragrance and appetizing flavor of bacon and ham have always made them favorite breakfast meats. They are so quickly cooked that they do not lengthen the time needed to get breakfast by any appreciable amount.

Suitable for Breakfast.

Canadian style bacon, cut from the smoked loin, contains more lean than the regular style bacon, which is a reason it is preferred by those who are interested in reducing their weight by a diet low in calories and high in protein. Ham and Canadian style bacon are allowed in the satisfying breakfast menu of this diet. By the way, you will like Canadian style bacon better if it is not cut too thin.

Creamed meat is another good tempter of breakfast appetites and this, too, is easily prepared. Leftover roast, diced, in cream sauce, served on baking powder biscuits, will start any day right. Creamed meat is also good to serve on waffles.

Sausages Tempt Appetite.

And of course sausages! They are among the popular breakfast dishes, either as little link sausages or in patties. For a hearty breakfast, they accompany waffles or wheat cakes.

Sausages go well with fruit, which suggests various out of the ordinary breakfast menus. For instance, sausage patties on pineapple slices, or baked in apples.

Creamed chipped beef is another tasty and easily prepared breakfast dish.

In fact, when there are so many delicious dishes to serve at breakfast, is there any excuse for letting that meal become monotonous or unappealing? If that has been the case in your household, better give that meal a little thought and attention and see if you and your family don't feel better all through the day.

Food Worth Getting Up For

Here's a breakfast worth getting up for! Canadian style bacon, broiled, served with scrambled eggs, provides nourishment to pep one up for a strenuous day. Toast and strawberry marmalade are served with it and a basket of fresh fruit is conveniently at hand.

Mixing Bowl Re-Appears At Cake Time

By PAULINE SCHOFIELD
Home Service Director of the Ohio Fuel Gas Company.

It's time to get out the mixing bowl and delight your family with a delicious home-made cake. Make the big handsome layer cake with its luscious date nut filling and orange date frosting — the velvety, fine-grained loaf cake with its tasty "surprise" —or the tempting nut cup cakes with chocolate frosting. Try all these cake recipes on your "special friends these fall days.

Caramel Nut Fudge Cake.

¾ cup cocoa
¾ cup sifted brown sugar, firmly packed
1¼ cups scalded milk
⅔ cup shortening
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup granulated sugar
3 eggs, unbeaten
1 teaspoon baking powder
¾ teaspoon soda
2 cups sifted flour

Sift cocoa with brown sugar. Add scalded milk gradually and stir until smooth. Cool. Combine shortening, salt and vanilla. Add granulated sugar gradually and cream thoroughly. Add eggs, one at a time, beating thoroughly after each addition. Add baking powder and soda to flour and sift 3 times. Add small amounts of flour to creamed mixture, alternately with cooled cocoa mixture, mixing after each addition until smooth. Pour batter into 14x9x2-inch pan. Bake in moderate oven (350 deg. Fah.) 55 to 60 minutes. Spread Caramel Nut Frosting on top and sides of cake. To substitute chocolate for cocoa, add 4 ounces chocolate melted to creamed mixture (shortening, salt, vanilla, granulated sugar, brown sugar and eggs). Blend; add sifted flour mixture, alternately with milk.

Autumn Woodland Cake.

1 cup shortening
1 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons vanilla
2 cups sugar
4 eggs, unbeaten
2 teaspoons baking powder
3 cups sifted cake flour
1 cup milk

Blend shortening, salt and vanilla. Add sugar gradually and cream well. Add eggs singly, beating well after each addition. Sift baking powder with flour 3 times. Add flour to creamed mixture, alternately with milk, mixing after each addition until smooth. Bake in three greased 9-inch layer pans in moderate oven (375 deg. Fah.) 30 to 35 minutes.

Spread Date Nut Filling between layers and Orange Date Frosting on top and sides.

Cavalier White Cake.

½ cup shortening
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon grated lemon rind
1 cup sugar
2½ teaspoons baking powder
2¼ cups sifted flour
¾ cup milk
3 egg whites
1 recipe Lemon Filling (below)
⅓ cup shredded cocoanut, chopped fine

Combine shortening, salt, and lemon rind, and blend. Add sugar gradually and cream until light and fluffy. Add baking powder to flour and sift 3 times. Add small amounts of flour to creamed mixture, alternately with milk, mixing after each addition until smooth. Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry and fold carefully into mixture until well blended. Pour batter into two 8-inch layer pans greased. Bake in moderate oven (350 deg. Fah.) 25 to 30 minutes. Spread thin film of Lemon Filling on one layer and sprinkle with chopped coconut which has been rummed with an additional ½ teaspoon grated lemon rind. Spread remaining filling between layers.

LEGACY OF LOVE + + + + + +

By KATHRN BEMIS

(Copyright, 1939)

CHAPTER XVIII

She just remembered that she had nothing but coffee since early morning.

"Swell idea!" Terry instantly fell into step beside her.

They went a roundabout way through the rose gardens to get to the terrace. Terry admired the Rowena Thoms, the Pink Radiances, the American Beauties, expounding at length upon trimming, fertilizing, spraying. He told Rita about wanting to be a horticulturist, about his father's insisting that he go into law, and she listened sympathetically, dreading to mingle with the gay guests up by the house.

But finally there was no excuse for further delay, and they arrived in the midst of the people standing in little groups, lolling on rattan seats and chairs, in gliders, discussing this, and the other—as though it mattered.

Rita was standing on the fringe of all this when she met the intent gaze of Tom in the doorway. Her color rose abruptly. There was grim reproach in his keen gray eyes, and she resolved to remedy this at the earliest possible moment.

Terry thrust a plate into her hands, and she tore her eyes from Tom, nibbled disinterestedly on a hot sausage.

Suddenly, for no reason at all, she felt courage ooze through her. Nothing was ever so bad as it seemed. Hadn't Terry said that Tom couldn't be serious about Eva? He was Tom's cousin; Tom was staying with him as usual. Terry ought to know what was going on. Intimating that Tom had given her that sapphire was a purely devilish trick on Eva's part. Or—wasn't it?

Rita quickly finished the pancake on her plate, thrust the plate into the hands of a passing maid. She walked resolutely over to Tom and Eva, now standing apart from the others.

She began a casual conversation with them, but there seemed to be a stone wall between everything she said to Tom and he said to her. She couldn't seem to climb the wall or go around it.

* * *

As if she realized what was going on in Rita's mind, Eva pressed her point until it loomed in Rita's consciousness as sharp as a steeple's spire.

Eva said, "Tom—tell me please—where did you find such a perfect stone?"

She held up her hand, wiggling the finger on which the sapphire shone up and down for emphasis.

"I wrote you when I mailed it—at a jeweler's in Spokane." Tom sounded provoked.

"Con — congratulations! I — I wish you every—happiness," Rita stammered swiftly.

With a whirl of skirts, she flounced away from them, raging inwardly at her senseless behavior. But she had never felt so cheaply humiliated. And she had brought it on herself by her own stupidity.

But there were broken vows, a ghastly crime—and love mixed up in all this. There was so much that Tom Cleveland was hiding. And why? Oh, how would it ever end?

The days that followed were far more difficult for Rita than any which had gone before. Selia was convinced no girl would faint without cause, and that cause in Rita's case must be overwork. Rita thought this nearly comical, because about all she had done for Selia since becoming her secretary was to write notes, answer telephone calls, and be at Selia's beck and call whenever she desired her companionship, which was often.

It was almost as if she had not lost her inheritance at all. It was the life, so far as social activities were concerned, that she had led as Rita Rhodes, the heiress. She was mingling with the same old friends, being accepted as usual by them, and her salary exceeded the allowance formerly given her by Wilmot Green. So her clothes were as smart, her poise as confident as of old. It was only her heart that was different. It behaved badly on occasion, and caused her many a dreary hour, but there seemed to be nothing she could do about it.

Selia was insisting upon that morning ride along the bridle path, and Roger must go along as a kind of glorified bodyguard.

"You might have one of those fainting spells, Rita dear, "Selia told her solicitiously. "We can't have you dropping off a horse when no one's around."

What could be done with a mother like that? And because Rita needed this job, liked it, and dared not look too far into the future, she pretended to be delighted with this special attention.

* * *

One morning when she and Roger started out for their ride, Rita read aloud the intriguing words on a sign. "This path leads to the sea."

She thought despondently, "If only Tom and I were going down to the sea this morning—together!"

"Let's ride to the beach—have breakfast there," suggester Roger, all eagerness. "Are you game?"

"Indeed I am!" she burst out impulsively. "It's too grand a morning to waste."

But she was not as lightheartened as she sounded. If she could only shed her fear! It wasn't right to dread reading the newspapers, ready to wince at seeing the announcement of a certain engagement. Eva and Tom were taking their time about airing their plans. It was maddening.

Rita sighed and tucked a foot more securely into the stirrup. Perhaps she and Selia wouldn't be in town for the wedding. Selia was planning trips all the time, then not taking them. One day it would be Paris, the next the San Francisco or the New York Fair, next she had decided on La Jolla as a perfect retreat for a few weeks. Sometime she would actually start for somewhere, and her secretary would have to be taken along—followed by Roger, naturally. But the high-strung Roger was always good company. He thought of so many lively things to do there wasn't too much time for blues. That much she could thank him for, luckily.
